

Contents

Introduction

- Albert-Reiner Glaap and Rolf Althof 7

Providing Background Information

Anton Wagner

"The Quintessence of Canadianism:"

- Canadian National Drama 1606-1949 11

Don Rubin

Creeping Toward a Culture: The Theatre

- in English Canada after World War II 21

Alan Filewod

- Critical Mass: Assigning Value and Place in Canadian Drama . . . 32

Tracing Specific Developments

Drew Hayden Taylor

The Re-Appearance of the Trickster:

- Native Theatre in Canada 51

Susan Bennett

Diversity and Voice:

A Celebration of Canadian Women

- Writing for Performance 60

Joyce Doolittle

- Theatre for Young Audiences 76

Denyse Lynde

- Newfoundland Drama: An Ever Changing Terrain 83

Presenting Authors and Their Work

Keith Garebian

Henry Beissel: Tragicomic Moralist 97

Richard Perkyns

Michael Cook's Jacob's Wake and the European Tradition 108

Klaus Peter Müller

Robertson Davies: The Concept of History and Myth 118

Malcolm Page

David Fennario's Balconville: Document and Message 138

Sarah Gibson-Bray

"To Engage, to Inform, and to Empower:"

Dennis Foon's Child Advocacy Drama 148

Albert-Reiner Glaap

Family Plays, Romances and Comedies:

Aspects of David French's Work as a Dramatist 161

Geraldine Anthony

John Herbert's

Fortune and Men's Eyes and Other Plays 175

Richard Plant

The Deconstruction of Pleasure: John Krizanc's Tamara,

Richard Rose and the Necessary Angel Theatre Company 189

Denis Salter

Ancestral Voices: The (European) Plays of John Murrell 201

Patricia Keeney

James Reaney: Playmaker 214

Don Rubin

George Ryga: The Poetics of Engagement 224

Jennifer Harvie

(Im)Possibility: Fantasy and Judith Thompson's Drama 240

Chris Johnson

"I put it in terms which cover the spectrum:" Mixed Convention and Dramatic Strategies in George F. Walker's Criminals in Love . 257

Touching on Quebecois Drama

Paul Lefebvre

Quebec Playwriting since 1980 270