
CONTENTS

1: Introduction The Editors	1
2: The genius of Ntsikana: traditional images and the process of change in early Xhosa literature Janet Hodgson	24
3: The art of being ruled: Ndebele praise-poetry, 1835–1971 Leroy Vail and Landeg White	41
4: Widening horizons of African literature, 1870–1900 Tim Couzens	60
5: Soi T. Plaatje and Tswana literature: a preliminary survey Brian Willan	81
6: The theatre of Stephen Black: an example of cultural discontinuity in South Africa Stephen Gray	101
7: No place for a white proletariat: notes on an early Afrikaans novel Ampie Coetzee	110
8: Romance and the development of the South African novel Paul Rich	120
9: Alternative Theatre: fifty years of performance in Johannesburg Ian Steadman	138
10: The uses of traditional oral forms in black South African literature Mbulelo Vizikhungo Mzamane	147
11: Writing in a fractured society: the case of Nadine Gordimer Stephen Clingman	161
12: The isolation of the Xhosa oral poet Jeff Opland	175
13: Staffrider and directions within contemporary South African literature Michael Vaughan	196
Index	213