

Table of Contents

| | |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Acknowledgements | v |
| Introduction | vii |
| Texts | |
| Achebe's Escort Service | 3 |
| Ambiguity and Intention in Arrow of God | 11 |
| Adventure and Self-Discovery in Mission to Kala | 21 |
| South Africa's First Indian Novel | 29 |
| John Bruin: South African Enigma in Texas | 39 |
| Pre-Texts | |
| Armah's Groton Essays | 51 |
| Armah's Harvard Writings | 67 |
| Amos Tutuola, Oral Tradition, and the Motif-Index | 87 |
| Towards an Achebe Iconography | 109 |
| Contexts | |
| Are There Any National Literatures in Black Africa Yet? | 121 |
| Politics, Culture, and Literary Form | 135 |
| Xenophobia and Class Consciousness in African Writing | 151 |
| Exile and Aesthetic Distance in the Works of Peter Abrahams | 167 |
| The Rise and Fall of Mbongeni Ngema | 177 |
| Ken Saro-Wiwa: In Short, a Giant | 199 |

African Textualities

Table of Contents, continued

| | |
|--------------------|------------|
| Works Cited | 203 |
| Index | 217 |