

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Notes on the Contributors	x
Introduction Mary Condé	1
Part I Literary Autobiography
1 Reflections Beryl Gilroy	11
2 The Most Important Reason I Write Velma Pollard	17
3 Writing Fiction, Writing Reality Merle Collins	23
4 The Development of My Art as a Fiction Writer Vernella Fuller	32
Part II Theoretical and Critical Responses
5 Literary Allusion in the Fiction of Jean Rhys Thorunn Lonsdale	43
6 Perceptions of Place: Geopolitical and Cultural Positioning in Paule Marshall's Novels Heidi Slettedahl Macpherson	75
7 The Body of the Woman in the Body of the Text: the Novels of Erna Brodber Denise deCaires Narain	97
8 The Short Fiction of Olive Senior Alison Donnell	117
9 Pauline Melville's Shape-Shifting Fictions Sarah Lawson Welsh	144

10	Jamaica Kincaid's Writing and the Maternal-Colonial Matrix Laura Niesen de Abruna	172
11	The Fiction of Zee Edgell Adele S. Newson	184
12	Dionne Brand: Writing the Margins Charlotte Sturgess	202
 Part III A Guide to Fiction by Caribbean Women Writers
	A to Z of Authors and Works by Country of Origin	219
	Further Reading	224
	Index	228