

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	xi
Epigraph	xiii
 Brigitte Le Juez and Olga Springer Introduction: Shipwrecks and Islands as Multilayered, Timeless Metaphors of Human Existence	 1
 I: Shipwrecks, Islands and Subjectivity
 Volkmar Billig “I-lands”: The Construction and Shipwreck of an Insular Subject in Modern Discourse	 17
 Yulia Pushkarevskaya Naughton, Gerald Naughton, and Samiah Haque The Island as Chora	 33
 Phillip Stevenson “Mine Was a Peculiar Kind of Wreck”: Robert Louis Stevenson’s Deconstruction of Treasure Island in The Wrecker	 47
 Michael Hinds Robinson in Headphones: The Desert Island as Pop Fetish	 61

II: The Island as Aesthetic Concept

Heather H. Yeung

Adventures in Form:

The Hebrides and the Romantic Imaginary 85

Patricia García

“The Lighthouse” (Edgar Allan Poe, 1849; Cristina

Fernández Cubas, 1997): From the “Egocentred”

to a “Geocentred” Analysis 97

David Garrett Izzo

Fifty Years On: Aldous Huxley’s Island (1962) Reconsidered 109

III: Weathering the Tempest – Images of Shipwrecks and Islands from Ancient to Modern Times

Barbara Freitag

The Gaelicization of Brasil Island:

From Cartographic Error to Celtic Elysium 123

Robert J. Vrtis

The Tempest Toss’d Ship: Twelfth Night and Emotional

Communities in Early Modern London 135

Dyani Johns Taff

A Shipwreck of Faith: Hazardous Voyages and Contested

Representations in Milton’s Samson Agonistes 151

Barra Ó Seaghdha

Islands and Irelands: Journeys, Mappings and Re-Mappings 171

IV: The Island as Feminine Space

Sara K. Day

“Maybe Girls Need an Island”: Desert Islands

and Gender Troubles in Libba Bray’s Beauty Queens 191

Amy Hicks Recreating Home for the New Girl: Domesticity and Adventure in L.T. Meade's Four on an Island	207
Shawn Thomson Lady Castaways in the Gilded Age in Edith Wharton's The House of Mirth	221
Sandra Vlasta Islands to Get Away From: Postcolonial Islands and Emancipation in Novels by Monica Ali, Andrea Levy and Caryl Phillips	233
V: Experimental Shipwrecks and Island as Laboratory
Shiela Pardee Drifting and Foundering: Evolutionary Theory in Kurt Vonnegut's Galápagos	249
Maria Błaszkiwicz "You Turn Worlds Upside Down": The Politics of Reversal in Terry Pratchett's Nation	267
Pat Brereton Shipwrecks and Desert Islands: Ecology and Nature – A Case Study of How Reality TV and Fictional Films Frame Representations of Islands	281
Beatrice Ferrara The Figuration of the Shipwreck as Political Commentary in Hydra Decapita, an Essay-Film by The Otolith Group	303
Notes on Contributors	315
Bibliography	321
Index	343