

Contents

Foreword Rajen Harshé	1
Introduction: Postcolonial Studies in the Age of Globalization Om Prakash Dwivedi and Martin Kich	9
Postcolonialism and Recovery: A Future Evermore About to Be Roderick McGillis	21
Going Global: The Future of Post-Colonial Studies Bill Ashcroft	35
“Pity the Poor Immigrant”: Pity and the Colony David Punter	50
From Colonial Outsider to Postcolonial Insider: Screen Adaptations from Australia and New Zealand/Aotearoa Janet Wilson	59
Resistance to Responsibility: Interrupting the Postcolonial Paradigm David Huddart	73
Cultural Translation in the Age of Globalization Shaobo Xie	87
Hybridity and Identity in New Zealand Māori Literature: Alan Duff’s Dreamboat Dad Alistair Fox	104
Slumdogs and Dogs’ Breakfasts: Reading Danny Boyle’s Slumdog Millionaire and Baz Luhrmann’s Australia Susan Hosking	119

vi • Contents

Gender, Hybridity and the Transcultural “Man Alone” in the Short Fiction of Frank Sargeson and Doris Lessing Joel Gwynne	136
Postmodernist Postcolonialisms and Feminisms: A Passion for Justice Varghese Thekkevallyara	147
Postcolonialisms, Globalization and Iconic Architecture Leslie Sklair	156
Radical Homelessness: David Malouf Writing in the “ Blut ” of Martin Heidegger Grant Farred	174
Global Victorians: Is Colonial Decadence to Blame for Postcolonial Deconstruction? Clara A.B. Joseph	191
About the Contributors	199
Index	203