

Contents

Chapter 1. Language and Models 1

Generalities . Sound and Meaning . Arbitrariness and Duality . Language as Structure . Linguistic Models . The Standard Theory: Overview . Competence, Performance, and Modularity . The Role of Idealization . Components of the Model . Lexical Information . Underlying Forms . Lexical Insertion . Deep Structure and Interpretive Components . Suggestions for Further Reading

Chapter 2. Phonetics I: The Study of Speech Sounds 23

Transcriptions . Segmentation . The Phonetic Alphabet . Broad and Narrow Transcriptions . Same and Different . Phonetic and Phonemic . Allophones . Inside-Outside . The Organs of Speech . The Vocal Tract . Major Classes . The Syllable . Suggestions for Further Reading

Chapter 3. Phonetics II: English Segments 47

Consonants . Stops and Nasals . Bilabials . Alveolars . Palatals . Velars . Glottal Stop . Fricatives . Labial Fricatives . Dental Fricatives . Alveolar Fricatives . Alveopalatal Fricatives . Velar Fricatives . The Glottal Fricative . Affricates . Obstruents and Sonorants . Liquids . Frequency . Tongue Body . Vowel Dimensions . Distinctive Features . Major Class Features . High . Back . The Five-Vowel System . The English Vowel System . Diphthongs . Secondary Vowels and Non-English Vowels . Glides . Distinctive Features for Vowels and Glides . Consonant Features . Why Features? . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading

Chapter 4. Sound Patterns Beyond the Segment	95
Suprasegmental . Tone . Intonation . Stress . The Syllable . Timing . Quantity . Boundaries . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading
Chapter 5. Phonology I: Some Simple Phonological Rules	109
The Phonological Component of the Grammar . Rules . M-Rules . P-Rules . Types of P-Rules . Ordering . Assimilation and Feature Addition . Flapping and Glottal Stopping . Aspiration . Vowel Reduction . Syllabic Consonants . Rule Generalization . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading
Chapter 6. Phonological and Morphological Rules	133
Regularities . Plural . Verbalizer . ing . Nasal Assimilation . Palatalization . Spirantization . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading
Chapter 7. Phonology III: Diphthongs and Vowel Shift	165
Diphthongs in General . Diphthong-Lax Vowel Alternations . Trisyllabic Laxing . Vowel Shift . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading
Chapter 8. Where Do Words Come From? Morphology	175
What is Morphology? . Words, Morphemes, and the Lexicon . Derivational and Inflectional Morphology . Native vs Non-Native . Free and Bound Morphemes . Roots, Affixes, Stems, and Bases . Inflection . Word Formation . Compounding . Complex Words . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading

Chapter 9. The Syntax of English Simple Sentences	223
Words Together . Phrases . Grammatical Relations . Phrase Structure Rules . Movement . Summary of English Phrase Structure Rules . Grammar and Sense . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading
Chapter 10. Syntax II: Transformational Rules	243
Agreement . Affix Hopping . Dative . Passive . Existential there . Contractions . do-Insertion . Question . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading
Chapter 11. Syntax III: Sentences within Sentences	297
Embedding . NP Complements . The Cycle . Extraposition . More NP Complements . For Sentences . Gerunds . Equi . VP Complements . AP Complements . PP Complements . Relative Clauses . Postscript: Compound Sentences . Non-Restrictive Relative Clauses . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading
Chapter 12. English Meanings	357
The Problem . What Should Semantic Rules Account For? . Word Meaning . Case . Sentence Meanings . The Meanings of Non-Declarative Sentences . Beyond Semantics . Beyond Sentences . Exercises . Suggestions for Further Reading
Select Bibliography	443
Index	453