

Table of Contents

Preface: Positioning Postphenomenology Don Ihde	vii
Introduction Robert Rosenberger and Peter-Paul Verbeek	1
1: A Postphenomenological Field Guide	7
1 A Field Guide to Postphenomenology Robert Rosenberger and Peter-Paul Verbeek	9
2: Postphenomenological Theories	43
2 Why Postphenomenology Needs a Metaphysics Lenore Langsdorf	45
3 What Robotic Re-embodiment Reveals about Virtual Re-embodiment: A Note on the Extension Thesis Kirk M. Besmer	55
4 Thinking Technology with Merleau-Ponty Aud Sissel Hoel and Annamaria Carusi	73
5 Movies and Bodies: Variations of the Embodied Self in Science-Fiction Techno-fantasies Marie-Christine Nizzi	85
6 Bodies as Technology: How Can Postphenomenologists Deal with the Matter of Human Technique? Fernando Secomandi	105
7 Four Dimensions of Technological Mediation Asle H. Kiran	123

3: Postphenomenological Cases	141
8 Tracing the Tracker: A Postphenomenological Inquiry into Self-Tracking Technologies Yoni Van Den Eede	143
9 A Century on Speed: Reflections on Movement and Mobility in the Twentieth Century Søren Riis	159
10 Searching for Alterity: What Can We Learn From Interviewing Humanoid Robots? Frances Bottenberg	175
11 Postphenomenology of the Robot Medical Student Chris Kaposy	191
12 Mediating Multiplicity: Brain-Dead Bodies and Organ Transplant Protocols Adam M. Rosenfeld	203
13 Towards a Hermeneutics of Unveiling Jan Kyrre Berg Friis	215
4: Critical Interlocutors	227
14 Making the Gestalt Switch Andrew Feenberg	229
15 Postphenomenology with an Eye to the Future Diane P. Michelfelder	237
16 Stability, Instability, and Phenomenology Albert Borgmann	247
Index	253
About the Contributors	261