

Contents

---

Introduction	xiii
 PART ONE: "THEY BREAK THE LINKS OF UNION"	 I
1. Writers and Politics	4
Taking Sides
The Fallen Angel and the Risen Saint
2. The "Wholesome Calamity"	14
William Gilmore Simms and Southern Wrongs
George Templeton Strong—Reluctant Abolitionist
Yankee Literati and the "Holy War"—Dr. Holmes
James Russell Lowell—Agitator-Conservator
Emerson Goes to War
 PART TWO: A PHILOSOPHICAL VIEW OF THE WHOLE AFFAIR	 39
3. Hawthorne: Lonely Dissenter	41
Neutralist
Chiefly About War Matters
The Terrible Allegory
4. Whitman: The "Parturition Years"	56
Sounding the Tocsin
Blacks and Abolitionists
"Deaths, Operations, Sickening Wounds"

War—"The Real Article"
"Lincoln's Man"
The Convulsive Years
5. Melville: The Conflict of Convictions	75
Melville and Whitman
Battle-Pieces as a War Narrative
"Through Terror and Pity"
Prophecies and Misgivings
 PART THREE: THE "MALINGERERS"	 91
6. Henry Adams	93
The Young Strategist
Qualms and Indecisions
The House of Adams Victorious
Prospects and Portents
The Unwanted Man
7. Henry James	106
The Wound
Father and Sons
"The Consecrating Sentiment"
"A Poor Worm of Peace"
The Blighted South
8. William Dean Howells	121
The Inglorious Assignment
Rediscovering the Enemy
The War Assessed
Literary Consequences
9. Mark Twain	133
The Comic Mask
Mark Twain's "Campaign"
Huck and Tom
The Fable of Catastrophe
 PART FOUR: DRAWING-ROOM WARRIORS AND COMBATANTS	 147
10. Gentlemen of Peace and War	149
The "Elevated" View—Stedman, Taylor & Co.

War Poets on Sea and Land—H. H. Brownell
and N. S. Shaler
Gentlemen-Soldiers—Captain O. W. Holmes,
Jr., and Others

- |  |  |     |
|--|--|-----|
| 11.  | John W. De Forest                 | 164 |
|  | A Volunteer's Adventures                 |     |
|  | Whites and Blacks in Pre-War Dixie       |     |
|  | The War in Document and Fiction          |     |
|  | The Recorders—Trashy and True            |     |
| 12.  | Ambrose Bierce                    | 181 |
|  | "Salad Days"                             |     |
|  | War Internalized                         |     |
|  | The Volunteer Remembers                  |     |
|  | Soldiers v. Civilians                    |     |
|  | "A Land of Peace and Pensions"           |     |
| 13.  | Albion W. Tourgée                 | 193 |
|  | Carpetbagger                             |     |
|  | Soldier                                  |     |
|  | Tourgée in Fact and Fiction              |     |
|  | Tourgée's "History"                      |     |
|  | Racism and the Future                    |     |
| PART FIVE: THE WAR AT SECOND HAND                  |  | 207 |
| 14.  | Stephen Crane and Harold Frederic | 210 |
|  | Recruits and Veterans                    |     |
|  | Henry Fleming's "Conversion"             |     |
|  | Mutual Admirers                          |     |
|  | The War in Dearborn County               |     |
|  | Copperheads and Deserters                |     |
|  | A Dissenting Voice                       |     |
| PART SIX: THE SOUTH: ONLOOKERS ANDPARTICIPANTS |  | 227 |
| 15.  | Writers in the Confederacy        | 229 |
|  | South Carolina Quixote                   |     |
|  | The Promised Renaissance                 |     |

	Timrod's War Launching the Legend
16.	The Unwritten Novel Cooke's Cavaliers Richard Taylor—Ironist David Hunter Strother—Realist Mrs. Chesnut's South Mrs. Chesnut Maps a Story Mrs. Chesnut's Unfinished "Novel"	244
17.	Sidney Lanier The Great Wind Tiger-Lilies and the Allegory of War	263
18.	George Washington Cable The Un-Southern Confederate Cable on the "Lost Cause" The Grandissimes	272
	PART SEVEN: RECONSTRUCTING THE SOUTHERN PAST	283
19.	The Neo-Confederates "A Holy Conviction Makes a Holy Cause" A Stand for Dixie Uses of the Past Biographical Narratives Allen Tate and the Novel as History The Meditations of Robert Penn Warren	285
20.	William Faulkner Faulkner and Agrarians Licensed Chronicler Legend-Makers (Men) Legend-Makers (Women) The Truths of Fantasy	310
	Conclusion "Such Was the War"	327
	Supplement 1 The War Prefigured	343
	Supplement 2 Lincoln and the Writers	349

Supplement 3	A Further Note on the "Collegians"	353
Supplement 4	Emily Dickinson's "Private Campaign"	355
Notes	(with a Key to Abbreviations Frequently Cited)	359
Acknowledgments		387
Index		follows page 387