

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
1 "I" and "You" in the American Renaissance	9
2 The Politics of Emerson's Man-Making Words	42
3 Three Ideologies of Manhood, Four Narratives of Humiliation	72
4 Frederick Douglass's Self-Refashioning	108
5 Two Genteel Women Look at Men: Sarah Hale and Caroline Kirkland	135
6 Impassioned Women: The Wide, Wide World and Uncle Tom's Cabin	171
7 Hard, Isolate, Ruthless, and Patrician: Dana and Parkman	205
8 Devious Men: Hawthorne	227
9 Mrs. Hawthorne's Headache: Reading The Scarlet Letter	259

