

CONTENTS

	Page
I. INTRODUCTION
1. The Purpose and Plan of the Investigation	11— 18
2. Roman Society and Its Lower Classes	18— 21
3. The Roman Army in the Republican Period	21— 29
4. The Preliminary Stage of cursus honorum	29— 33
5. The Body of Junior Officers (Including Military Tribunes, II-viri navales , and Prefects)	33— 34
II. THE MILITARY TRIBUNES
A. The Military Tribunate	35— 57
1. Origin and Development	36— 42
2. Functions and Privileges	43— 51
3. Election and Eligibility	51— 57
B. The Social Origin of Military Tribunes	57— 145
1. The Roman Opinion of the Social Origin of Military Tribunes	57— 60
2. The Number of Military Tribunes	60— 62
3. The Method Used	62— 66
4. Patrician and Plebeian Contribution	66— 71
5. The Patrician Military Tribunes	71— 79
6. The Plebeian Military Tribunes	79— 138
Grouping According to the nomen	79— 84
a. Military Tribunes Bearing the nomen of Consular gentes	85— 99
b. Military Tribunes Bearing the nomen of Lower Senato- torial gentes	99— 109
c. Military Tribunes of Equestrian origin	109— 138
α with relations later recorded as consuls	111— 119
β with relations later recorded as lower senators . . .	119— 124
γ with relations not known to have risen	124— 138
7. The Equestrians in the Councils of Pompeius Strabo in 89 B.C. and of Cornelius Lentulus Crus in 49	138— 140
8. Summary of the Social Origin	140— 145
C. The Local Origin of the Military Tribunes and Their gentes	145— 169
1. The Roman Opinion of the Local Origin of Military Tribunes	146— 148

	Page
2. The Method Used	148—154
a. The Birth-place and Domicile of the Tribune, and the Local Origin of the gens	148—151
b. The Sources of Information	151—154
3. The Places of Origin of the Recorded Military Tribunes and Their gentes	154—169
a. before 218 B.C.	154—155
b. from 218 to 134 B.C.	155—160
c. from 133 to 82 B.C.	160—162
d. from 81 to 49 B.C.	162—165
e. from 48 to 30 B.C.	165—166
f. from 29 B.C. to A.D. 14	166—167
4. The Equestrians in the Councils of Pompeius Strabo and Cornelius Lentulus Crus	169—169
5. Summary of the Local Origin	169
D. The Military Tribunate as Promoter of the cursus , and the Rise of Military Tribunes	169—187
1. The Roman Opinion of the Rise of Military Tribunes ..	169—171
2. Statistical Treatment	171—174
3. The Rise of the Recorded Military Tribunes	174—180
a. The Patrician Military Tribunes	174—176
b. The Military Tribunes from the Plebeian Nobility ..	177—179
c. The Military Tribunes from Lower Senatorial gentes ..	179—181
d. The Military Tribunes from Equestrian gentes	181—184
4. The Equestrians in the Councils of Pompeius Strabo and Cornelius Lentulus Crus	184—186
5. Summary of the Rise	186—187
 III. THE II-VIRI NAVALES
A. The Office of II-viri navales	188—192
1. Origin and Development	189—190
2. Functions and Privileges	191
3. Election and Eligibility	191—192
B. The Social Origin of the II-viri navales	192—196
1. The Roman Opinion of the Social Origin of II-viri navales	192—193
2. The Number of II-viri navales	193
3. Patrician and Plebeian Contribution	193—194
4. The Patrician II-viri navales	194—195
5. The Plebeian II-viri navales	195—196
C. The Local Origin of II-viri navales	196
D. The Office of II-viri navales as a Promoter of the cursus , and the Rise of II-viri navales	196—197

IV. THE PREFECTS

Page

A. The Posts of Prefects	198—213
1. The Category of Prefect	198—200
2. The Functions of Prefects	200—210
a. Praefectus socium	200—202
b. Praefectus equitum in the Citizen Cavalry	202—203
c. Praefectus equitum in the auxilia	203—204
d. Praefectus in the Infantry auxilia	204
e. Praefectus classis	204—205
f. Praefectus fabrum	205—209
g. Other Functions	209—210
3. The Privileges of Prefects	210—211
4. Comparison between the Posts of Prefect and the Military Tribunate	211—212
5. The Posts of Prefects during the Empire	212—213
B. The Social Origin of Prefects	213—279
1. The Roman Opinion of the Social Origin of Prefects ..	214—218
2. The Number of Prefects	218—222
3. The Method Used	222—224
4. Patrician and Plebeian Contribution	224—229
5. The Patrician Prefects	229—233
6. The Plebeian Prefects	233
Grouping According to the nomen	233—235
a. Prefects Bearing the nomen of Consular gentes	235—246
c. Prefects Bearing the nomen of Lower Senatorial gentes	246—253
d. Prefects of Equestrian Origin	253—256
α with relations later recorded as consuls	256—259
β with relations later recorded as lower senators ..	259—264
γ with relations not known to have risen	264—272
7. The Prefects Appointed by the Allies	272—275
8. Summary of the Social Origin	275—279
C. The Local Origin of the Prefects and Their gentes	279—287
1. General Remarks	279
2. The Places of Origin of the Prefects and Their gentes ..	279
a. before 133 B.C.	279—282
b. from 133 to 82 B.C.	283—284
c. from 81 to 49 B.C.	284—285
d. from 48 to 30 B.C.	285—286
e. from 49 B.C. to 14 A.D.	287
4. Summary of the Local Origin	287
D. The Post of Prefect as Promoter of the cursus , and the Rise of Prefects	288—295

	Page
1. Statistical Treatment	288—290
2. The Rise of the Recorded Equestrian Prefects	290—295
a. The Patrician Prefects	290—291
b. The Prefects from the Plebeian Nobility	291—292
c. The Prefects from the Lower Senatorial gentes	293
d. The Prefects of Equestrian Origin	294—295
4. Summary of the Rise	295
 V. THE BODIES OF THE JUNIOR OFFICERS, AND THE XXVI-VIRATE	 296—300
APPENDIX I: Information on the Military Tribunes, the II-viri navales , and Prefects	301—304
APPENDIX II: The Lists of the Recorded Junior Officers 509 B.C.—A.D. 14	304—408
1. Plan of the Lists	304—306
2. The Lists.	307—340
A. Tribuni militum 509 B.C.—A.D. 14.	377—320
B. II-viri navales 310—178 B.C.	320
C. Praefecti 509 B.C.—A.D. 14	321—337
D. The Council of Pompeius Strabo in 89 B.C. (CIL I ³ , 709 = D 8888)	338—339
E. The Council of L. Cornelius Lentulus Crus 49 B.C. (Ios. ant. 14. 229; 14. 238)	340
3. Index of the Recorded Junior Officers in 509 B.C.— A.D. 14. (the gens, cursus, and local origin)	341—398
4. Notes on the Lists	399—408
A. Military Tribunes.	399—403
B. II-viri navales	403
C. Prefects	403—404
D. Junior Officers Not Given in Broughton, Roman Magistrates	405—407
E. Junior Officers Not Given in Pauly-Wissowa, RE . .	407—408
BIBLIOGRAPHY	409—422
INDICES	423—439
MAPS

Note:

The bracketed numbers in the text and footnotes refer as follows:

normal print	to RE
italics	to officer lists (appendix II, 2: A, B, C, D, E)
semibold	to index of cursus and gentes (appendix II, 3)
semibold italics	to the relevant years in original sources

Page referenses in footnotes:

page = page of this study

p. and pp. = page(s) in the sources