

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	ix
List of Contributors	xi
Evelyn ‘Timmie’ Birge Vitz, Bibliography	xiii
Introduction	1
Kathryn A. Duys, Elizabeth Emery, Laurie Postlewaite
Part I: Speaking of Stories
‘Of Aunters They Began to Tell’: Informal Story in Medieval England and Modern America	13
Linda Marie Zaerr
The Storyteller’s Verbal jonglerie in ‘Renart jongleur’	31
Marilyn Lawrence
Plusurs en ai oïz conter : Performance and the Dramatic Poetics of Voice in the lais of Marie de France	47
Simonetta Cochis
Who Tells the Stories of Poetry? Villon and his Readers	61
Nancy Freeman Regalado
Part II: Inscribing Stories
The Audience in the Story: Novices Respond to History in Gautier de Coinci’s Chasteé as nonains	77
Kathryn A. Duys
Effet de parlé and effet d’écrit : The Authorial Strategies of Medieval French Historians	93
Cristian Bratu
Or, entendez! Jacques Tahureau and the Staging of the Storytelling Scene in Early Modern France	111
Kathleen Loysen

Telling the Story of the Christ Child: Text and Image in Two Fourteenth-Century Manuscripts Maureen Boulton	123
Authorizing the Story: Guillaume de Machaut as Doctor of Love Joyce Coleman	141
Part III: Moving Stories
Retelling the Story: Intertextuality, Sacred and Profane, in the Late Roman Legend of St Eugenia E. Gordon Whatley	157
Ruodlieb and Romance in Latin: Audience and Authorship Elizabeth Archibald	171
Turner a prû : Conversion and Translation in the Vie de saint Clement Laurie Postlewate	187
Stories for the King: Narration and Authority in the ‘Crusade Compilation’ of Philippe VI of France (London, British Library, MS Royal 19.D.i) Mark Cruse	205
Le Berceau de la littérature française : Medieval Literature as Storytelling in Nineteenth-Century France Elizabeth Emery	219
Storytelling Tribute: An Ode to Friendship
Retelling the Old Story Samuel N. Rosenberg	239
Index	245
Tabula Gratulatoria	261