

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Note on Names	xi
Introduction	1
Part I Travelling Autobiography
1 Orientalism in Reverse: Early Muslim Travel Accounts of Britain	21
Introduction	21
Mirza Sheikh I'tesamuddin	25
Sake Dean Mahomed	28
Mirza Abu Taleb Khan	32
Najaf Koolee Meerza (with Reeza Koolee Meerza and Taymoor Meerza)	40
Conclusion	46
2 'Truly a person progresses by travelling and interacting with different peoples': Travelogues and Life Writing of the Twentieth Century	50
Introduction	50
Atiya Fyzee and Maimoona Sultan	52
Aga Khan III, Sir Sultan Muhammed Shah	65
Zulfikar Ghose	71
Tunku Abdul Rahman Putra	83
Conclusion	90
Part II Travelling Fiction
3 'I haf been to Cambridge!': Muslim Fictional Representations of Britain, 1855–1944	95
Introduction	95
Ahmad Fāris al-Shidyāq	98
Muhammad Marmaduke Pickthall	106
Sajjad Zaheer	120
Yahya Hakki	132
Conclusion	141

4	'England-Returned': British Muslim Fiction of the 1950s and 1960s	143
	Introduction	143
	Qurratulain Hyder	146
	Attia Hosain	162
	Ghulam Abbas	172
	Tayeb Salih	176
	Conclusion	188
5	Myth of Return Fiction of the 1970s and 1980s: 'A bit of this and a bit of that'	189
	Introduction	189
	Tariq Mehmood and Abdullah Hussein	191
	Ahdaf Soueif	201
	Abdulrazak Gurnah	211
	Conclusion	216
	The Myth of Conclusion	218
	Notes	223
	Bibliography	235
	Index	258