

Contents

| | | |
|---|---------------------|-----|
| Editor's introduction | Margaret Drabble | 9 |
| PART 1 The life | | |
| The early years | Terry Coleman | 12 |
| Hardy's secret love | Lois Deacon | 19 |
| Friends and critics 1840–1928 | Sheila Sullivan | 32 |
| The later years | Gillian Avery | 44 |
| PART 2 The work | | |
| The major novels | J. I. M. Stewart | 56 |
| Sue and Arabella | Elizabeth Hardwick | 67 |
| Accident and coincidence in Tess of the D'Urbervilles | Thomas Hinde | 74 |
| The poems | Geoffrey Grigson | 80 |
| Hardy and the theatre | Harold Orel | 94 |
| PART 3 The genius of Thomas Hardy | | |
| Hardy's Wessex | Denys Kay-Robinson | 110 |
| Hardy and Cornwall | A. L. Rowse | 119 |
| Hardy's philosophy | A. O. J. Cockshut | 139 |
| Hardy and architecture | Sir John Betjeman | 150 |
| Hardy the historian | Lord David Cecil | 154 |
| Hardy and the natural world | Margaret Drabble | 162 |
| The Hardy industry | Gregory Stevens Cox | 170 |
| Appendix | | 182 |
| Biographical Notes | | 184 |
| Acknowledgments | | 185 |
| Index | | 187 |