

CONTENTS

Preface	7
Acknowledgments	9
Abbreviations	11
List of Contributors	13

PART I

History, Society, Literature

SHEMARYAHU TALMON
The Internal Diversification of Judaism in the Early Second Temple Period	16
URIEL RAPPAPORT
The Material Culture of the Jews in the Hellenistic–Roman Period	44
THOMAS A. IDINOPULOS
Religious and National Factors in Israel's War with Rome	50
GERALD J. BLIDSTEIN
The Import of Early Rabbinic Writings for an Understanding of Judaism in the Hellenistic–Roman Period	64
DEVORAH DIMANT
Literary Typologies and Biblical Interpretation in the Hellenistic–Roman Period	73
MAURICE GILBERT
The Book of Ben Sira: Implications for Jewish and Christian Traditions	81

Jewish Civilization in the Hellenistic–Roman Period

PART II

Qumran Between Judaism and Christianity

JOHN STRUGNELL
The Qumran Scrolls: A Report on Work in Progress	94
EMANUEL TOV
Hebrew Biblical Manuscripts from the Judaean Desert: Their Contribution to Textual Criticism	107
LAWRENCE H. SCHIFFMAN
Qumran and Rabbinic Halakhah	138
JOSEPH M. BAUMGARTEN
Recent Qumran Discoveries and Halakhah in the Hellenistic–Roman Period	147
JACOB MILGROM
Deviations from Scripture in the Purity Laws of the Temple Scroll	159
JAMES H. CHARLESWORTH
Qumran in Relation to the Apocrypha, Rabbinic Judaism, and Nascent Christianity: Impacts on University Teaching of Jewish Civilization in the Hellenistic–Roman Period	168
GEORGE W.E. NICKELSBURG
The Qumran Fragments of 1 Enoch and Other Apocryphal Works: Implications for the Understanding of Early Judaism and Christian Origins	181
HARTMUT STEGEMANN
The ‘Teacher of Righteousness’ and Jesus: Two Types of Religious Leadership in Judaism at the Turn of the Era	196
SHEMARYAHU TALMON
Between the Bible and the Mishnah: Qumran from Within	214
Index of References	259
Index of Authors	266