

Contents

Chapter One

Cognition, consciousness and literary contexts	9
Gender, literature and consciousness	10
Gender, literature and society	11
Addressing bodies and the trouble of gender and consciousness	12
Challenging models of “woman”	15
Interdisciplinary approaches to cognition and consciousness	16
Questions of qualia and consciousness	20
Quantum consciousness	21
The gendered world according to traditional concepts	23
The “problem” of consciousness: Eastern and Western approaches	24
The Cosmic Web	28
Literature and “superconsciousness”	30
The scope and contents of Beyond Bodies	32

Chapter Two

Forging roads into consciousness: rasa and the influence of emotion in Wuthering Heights	35
Wuthering Heights : a journey through the images of emotion	36
Wuthering Heights and the uncanny	40
Symbolisms and sex	41
Rasa theory in drama and literature	45
Rasa, qualia, and consciousness	48
Rasa and Wuthering Heights	50
The horror of Heathcliff	52
Qualia, rasa and moral responsibility	55

Chapter Three

Isolating consciousness: secrets, silencing and insanity	57
Jane Eyre : a journey through modes of consciousness	57
Jane Eyre and higher states of consciousness: up on the roof	61
Jane Eyre as “autobiography” of being and becoming	63
Maya and madness	66
“The Library Window”	68
Paradoxes and problems: the “other” woman	70
Lady Audley’s Secret	74
Madness as metaphor	78
Madness, marriage and meaning: “The Yellow Wallpaper”	79
Conclusions	82

Chapter Four

Beyond the veils of consciousness: individual and collective awareness in the novels of George Eliot	85
George Eliot and the exploration of female consciousness	85
Middlemarch : “The world is as we are”	86
The pier-glass analogy	87
Chhandas : the cover of reality	92
Inner and outer worlds: language and consciousness	98
The Lifted Veil : A metaphysical masking of consciousness	98
The Victorian woman in action	106

Chapter Five

Shifts into quantum consciousness: Virginia Woolf’s moments of being	109
Twentieth century revolutions in thought	109
The “New Woman” of the twentieth century	110
Virginia Woolf’s radical writing	112
Escapes into consciousness	114
The stream of consciousness	117

The Waves	119
Loss of consciousness: Woolf beneath the waves	125
Quantum waves shed light on the stream of consciousness	127
Mrs Dalloway : The entanglement of consciousness	129
Gender and the quantum world: universal connectedness	134
Disturbing the universe	135

Chapter Six

Consciousness and freedom: women's space in the twentieth-century Bildungsroman 137

Patriarchy and women's space	137
The Black Narcissus	139
The female quest narrative: The Crying of Lot 49	142
The "Wild Zone" of consciousness	145
Modern science and Vedic science shed light on Pynchon's paradox	147
A journey through the Wild Zone: Housekeeping	149
Consciousness and women's language	152
Transience and transcendence	154

Chapter Seven

Beyond gender myths: Angela Carter's feminist fables 161

Myths, fairy stories and gendered power games	162
Angela Carter's feminist rewriting of fairy tales	164
The Bloody Chamber and the myths of Eve	166
The problematic enchantment of passivity	169
The fantastic world of Angela Carter's novels	170
Bodies as "Infernal Desire Machines"	171
Challenges to the self	172
Paradoxes of postmodern and Puranic tales	174

Chapter Eight

Transforming gender: passion, desire and consciousness	175
Becoming woman	175
Chris Abani's The Virgin of Flames	177
Quantum gender and the creation of new myths:
Jeanette Winterson	182
The Passion	182
Sexing the Cherry	184
Gut Symmetries	187
Becoming human: The Stone Gods	190
AI: imprints of consciousness	194

Chapter Nine

Quests and questions of consciousness: Margaret Atwood's post-human futures	197
Margaret Atwood and the problematic search for new worlds	198
Surfacing : Society, secrets, and subjectivity	199
Atwood's twenty-first century dystopia	205
Consciousness and philosophies of conscience	213

Chapter Ten

Consciousness and conscience: the ethics of enlightenment	215
Consciousness, creative writing, and the discovery of the Higgs boson	216
Encountering physics and consciousness	217
The universe of Self-referral creation	218
Consciousness and the quantum brain	220
Consciousness, emotion and ethics	222
Projecting worlds from consciousness	224
Literary fiction meets scientific fact	226
Bibliography	231
Index	245