

Contents

Preface vii

INTRODUCTION

- 1 Samuel Butler on convention and repetition 3

PART ONE: ROGER FRY AND VIRGINIA WOOLF

- 2 Roger Fry and the problem of representation 17
3 Verisimilitude and illusion: The Voyage Out and Night and Day 26
4 Sensation in language and art: Mrs Dalloway and Flush 38
5 Autonomy: Between the Acts 49
6 Craftsmanship 60
7 Colour 70
8 Space: 'hollowing out a canvas' 85

PART TWO: REPETITION AND RHYTHM

- 9 An introduction to the problem 97
10 The double nature of repetition: The Waves 128
11 The symbolic keyboard: Mrs Dalloway 149
12 Plot, history and memory: The Years 158
13 Character 166

CONCLUSION

- 14 To the Lighthouse 177

Appendix A 207

Appendix B 210

Notes 212

Bibliography 223

Index 229