

CONTENTS

PREFACE.....	9
CHAPTER I: MODERN INTERPRETATIONS: HISTORY AND HISTORIOGRAPHY	13
CHAPTER II: DESIGN, STRUCTURE, AND CHRONOLOGY	23
CHAPTER III: CHRONOLOGICAL RECONSTRUCTION	37
SECTION I: From the Acarnanian profanation of the Eleusinian Mysteries to the Athenian declaration of war on Philip and the raids of Nicanor and Philocles (autumn 201 to summer 200)	37
SECTION II: The embassy to Rome from Attalus and the Rhodians; the appointment and mission of C.Claudius Nero, P.Sempronius Tuditanus and M.Aemilius Lepidus (autumn 201 to April 200*)	43
SECTION III: The consul's return to Rome; the senate's appointment of M. Valerius Laevinus with propraetorian imperium ; coordination of diplomacy and military forces (November 201-March 200*)	52
SECTION IV: Events in Rome from the consuls' inauguration to departure for their provinces (L. 31.5.1-14.1); the anomaly of the late departure of the consular army for Macedonia (mid-January to late October*)	61
SECTION V: Events in the eastern Mediterranean from late April 200 to the arrival of the consular army and the fall of Abydus (late October 200*)	74
SECTION VI: The campaigns of autumnus 200 and consular 199; the remaining events of consular 200	82
CONCLUSION	91
APPENDIX I: The interpretation of autumno ferme exacto (L. 31.22.4)	95
APPENDIX II: Athenian appeals to the Romans	97

APPENDIX III: The activities of M. Aurelius (Cotta)	101
TABLE OF DATES	105
SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY	109
INDEXES
1. General	113
2. Authors and passages	116