

Contents

List of Figures xiii

Abbreviations xv

Introduction: The Subject 3

 Limitation of the Subject: Quantity of Evidence and Chronology 4

 Ancient Sources for the Associations of Classical Athens 7

 Secondary Literature on the Associations of Classical Athens 21

1 "Associations," Solon's Law, and the Democracy 25

 The Definition of "Association" 25

 Solon's Law on Associations 33

 Democracy and Associations 45

2 The Demes: Definitions and Membership 51

 The Deme as "Natural Community" 51

 The Disposition of the Deme: People or Territory? 56

 The Territorial Deme 70

3 The Isolation of the Demes 82

 Pankleon, Dekeleia, and the Isolation of the Rural Demes 83

 The Extra-Urban Deme as Independent Administrative Center 86

 Determinants of the Isolation of the Extra-Urban Demes:

 General Considerations and an Hypothesis 94

 Testing the Hypothesis: Documents of the Demes 100

 Testing the Hypothesis: The Demes in Comedy 107

 Deme versus Deme Relations 115

4 The Demes: Expansion and Decline 123

 The Women of the Demotai 123

	The Rise of the Territorial Deme	133
	The Decline of the Constitutional Deme	143
5	The Phylai: Disposition, Meetings, and Solidarity	151
	Introduction	151
	The Disposition of the Phyle Organization	155
	The Agorai : Location, Schedule, Agenda, and Purpose	161
	The Solidarity of the Phyle as Association	169
	Postscriptum	172
6	The Phylai: Instruments of Representation?	174
	The Officers of the Internally Organized Phylai	174
	The Proposers of the Decrees	182
	The Honorands of the Decrees	184
	The Phyle Association as Instrument of Representation	191
7	The Phratries	195
	The Public Role of the Phratries	195
	Regional Distribution and Relation to the Urban Center	200
	The Relations of the Phratries and the Demes	211
	Subdivisions of the Phratry and Social Differentiation	214
8	“Clubs,” Schools, Regional, and Cultic Associations	221
	Classical Athenian “Voluntary” Associations	221
	“Clubs”	223
	Philosophical Schools	227
	Regional Associations	234
	Genê	242
	Orgeones	249
9	The Organization of the Cretan City in Plato’s Laws	268
	Introduction	268
	The Public Organization: Components and Disposition	272
	The Public Organization: External or Statewide Functions	276
	The Public Organization: Internal or Associational Functions	282
	The Syssitia	284
	Conclusion: The City of the Laws and Associations	286
10	Government and Associations: “The Response to Democracy”	288
	Appendix 1. Post-Macedonian Associations at Athens	307
	Appendix 2. Solon’s Law on Associations	311
	Appendix 3. Documents of the Internally Organized Phylai	321
	Bibliography	325
	Select Literary Passages	333
	Select Inscriptions	335
	Subject Index	337