

Contents

Preface	xj
Acknowledgements	xix
List of Illustrations	xxix
Chronology	xxxv

PART ONE

Foundations

1 Liberal imperialist ‘I’m leader of this great nation, and I haven’t made up my mind’	3
2 A radical disposition ‘When people are free to choose, they choose freedom’	20
3 Landslide ‘I live in a big house called 10 Downing Street. I’m going to live there for a long time’	43
4 Jobs for her boys ‘To write the concerns and views of your Government into the grammar book of politics’	64
5 Reagan plays her false ‘If I were there Margaret, I’d throw my hat in the door before I came in’	104
6 The enemy within ‘If anyone has won, it has been the miners who stayed at work’	136
7 Sales of the century ‘Tell Sid’	183

PART TWO

Shocks

8 Glasnost in the Chilterns ‘For heaven’s sake, try and find me a young Russian’	225
--	-----

9	Arms and the Woman 'Your Majesty, who do you trust – Mitterrand or Mrs Thatcher?'	254
10	Irish Agreement, Brighton bomb 'The day I was not meant to see'	298
11	Poll tax 'Voter & payer'	343
12	A single European 'How dare they! We saved all their necks in the war'	377
13	The death-knell of monetarism 'She's a moral coward when it comes to dealing with people'	409
14	Helicopter crash 'Her hands were not entirely clean'	449

PART THREE

Recovery

15	TBW 'While she is with us, she is not with her own people'	501
16	Against Queen and Commonwealth 'Blacks and their families out of work? Moral? Poof! '	544
17	Save the Bomb 'She was the exclamation point'	586
18	To Moscow 'The light is coming from the West'	614
19	What they saw in her 'Mrs Thatcher is the point at which all snobberies meet'	635
20	The last victory 'There's a woman who will never fight another election'	673
	Notes	711
	Bibliography	773
	Index	785