

Table of contents

Series editor's preface	IX
Acknowledgement	XI
Contributors	XIII
Introduction	1
Theo D'haen, Iannis Goerlandt and Roger D. Sell
Part I. Languages
CHAPTER 1
The "minor language" perspective	15
Östen Dahl
CHAPTER 2
The language milieu of the Old Order Amish: Preserving Pennsylvania Deitsch	25
Johanna Jansson
CHAPTER 3
English – The Last Lingua Franca?	43
Nicholas Ostler
CHAPTER 4
National identities and the Latin language in Hungary and Croatia: Language conflicts, 1784–1848	53
Lav Subaric
CHAPTER 5
Error and innovation in postcolonial composition: The implications of World Englishes	67
David Huddart
CHAPTER 6
Cultivating learners' intellectual growth and conceptual thinking skills through selected literary works: A strategic approach to writing development in English	81
Amporn Srisermbhok

Part II. Theoretical considerations: Language, culture, literature

CHAPTER 7

- Critical glissantism: Édouard Glissant's views on language(s) 103
Kathleen Gyssels

CHAPTER 8

- Decolonizing world literature 125
Magdi Youssef

CHAPTER 9

- Minor and major readings across cultures 141
Lotta Strandberg

CHAPTER 10

- From Black Athena to Black Dionysus and beyond?
African adaptations of Greek tragedy 157
Astrid Van Weyenberg

CHAPTER 11

- From minor genre towards major genre: Crime fiction and autofiction 171
Karen Ferreira-Meyers

CHAPTER 12

- World literature / World culture? TV series and video games 187
Sylvie André

Part III. Literatures

CHAPTER 13

- Small presses and the globalization of poetry 207
Manuel Brito

CHAPTER 14

- Between "minor" and "major": The case of Polish literature 221
Marta A. Skwara

CHAPTER 15

- "The world at large ... is only an expanded homeland": From Goethe's idea of world literature to contemporary migration literature 233
Leena Eilittä

CHAPTER 16

Who is the Other? Goethe's encounter with "China"
in his concept of Weltliteratur

241

Yi Chen

CHAPTER 17

"Major" and "minor" literatures: Indian cases

253

Meenakshi Bharat

CHAPTER 18

A "minor" language in a "major" literature: Contemporary Irish literature

263

Micéala Symington

Index

273