

{ CONTENTS }

List of Illustrations	viii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: The Critical Work and Critical Pleasure of American Literature	3
Surveyors of Customs, Culture, Hegemony, and Capitalism 5 / Reading Literature as Usable 6 / A Method of Reading 9/ American Literature Previews Cultural Analysis 12 / Franklin's Systemic Reading Lessons: Capitalism as Cannibalism 16 / Hawthorne's Systemic Reading Lessons: Imagining the "Whole System" of Society 26 / Soft Capitalism and the Range of Reproductive Payoffs 29 / The Chapters 34 / Postscript 36
1. Inner-Self Industries: Soft Capitalism's Reproductive Logic	39
Inserting the Innate: American Literature Surveys Spiritual Production 48 / Interpellation, Interiority Incitement, and Soft Power 51 / Interiority Revolutions: Expanding the Business of Selfhood Reproduction 53 / Soft Capitalism's Latency Culture: Industrial-Era Soullessness and Soul Making 56 / Diversifying Capitalism's Individuality Repertoire: Franklin plus Emerson 59 / The Changing Interiority Market: Edwards's Souls and Franklin's Stomachs 60 / Soft Capitalism's Secular Latency Turn: Poe and Dickinson 61 / Soul Machinery: Hawthorne on Class-Identity Making as Secular Soul Making 67 / Postscript 76
2. How America Works: Getting Personal to Get Personnel	79
Individualizing and Incorporating Bottom-Up: Franklin and Alger 83 / Reading the Incentive System: Davis to Wright 84 / Surveyors of Anti-incentive: Personnel Preference 90 / Personnel Culture: Soft Incentive Management beyond Franklin and Alger 92 / Redefining Equality, Individuality, and Incentive: Melville, Bellamy, and Howells 96 / Domesticating Incentive Making: Sigourney, Hemingway, Fitzgerald, and West 103 / The Family Business: O'Neill as Personnel Culture Theorist 111 / Postscript 117
3. Dress-Down Conquest: Americanizing Top-Down as Bottom-Up	121
"Democratizing" Inequality: Looking Backward from Bush to Faulkner 124 / Hegemonizing Dress-Down Power: The Colloquial Turn as a "Littery" Project 126 / Dress-Up Power: Twain, Melville, Davis, Crane, Fitzgerald 132 / The Equality Racket: Twain, Tocqueville, Carnegie, Fitzhugh, Du Bois 136 / Play-Acting Equality: King Arthur in the Connecticut Yankee's Court 140 / Conquest Handbook: Americanization Studies as Conquest Studies 150 / Littery Man versus Oxford Dude: The Americanization of Britain 155 / Postscript 163

Afterword: America Is Worth Saving from...	165
Notes	169
Works Consulted	231
Index	263

{ LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS }

Frontispiece, "The Library" by Quint Buchholz.	i
Figure 1 Mark Twain on the cover of Time magazine , July 14, 2008 issue.	4
Figure 2 An illustration from A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court .	145