

Contents

Acknowledgments		ix
------------------------	--	----

Introduction to Contemporary Sino-French Cinemas		1
--	--	---

PART ONE Franco-Taiwanese Cinema

- | | | |
|---|--|-----|
| 1. The Sino-French as Métissage : Cheng Yu-chieh's Yang Yang | | 31 |
| 2. Intertextuality as Métissage in Tsai Ming-liang's Sino-French Films:
What Time Is It There? and Face | | 72 |
| 3. Hou Hsiao-hsien's Flight of the Red Balloon as a Sino-French
Makeover | | 109 |

PART TWO Franco-Chinese Cinema

- | | | |
|--|--|-----|
| 4. Translations of Dai Sijie's Balzac and the Little
Chinese Seamstress | | 139 |
| 5. Imitating Frenchness in Emily Tang Xiaobai's Conjugation and
Jia Zhangke's The World | | 160 |
| Conclusions Mixing It Up: The Hybridity of the Sino-French | | 188 |

Notes		203
--------------	--	-----

Filmography		237
--------------------	--	-----

Bibliography		241
---------------------	--	-----

Index		259
--------------	--	-----