

Doris G. Borgen

The Fiction of Stanley Elkin

80/14 13/1

Verlag Peter D. Lang
Frankfurt a.M. • Bern • Cirencester/U.K.

CONTENTS

Preface	5
I Introduction	15
1. Life and Work	17
2. A Résumé of Elkin Criticism	23
II Metafiction and Black Humor-- Two Major Movements of the Sixties and Seventies	29
1. The Literary Landscape	31
2. Metafiction	33
3. Elkin as Metafictionist	38
4. Black Humor	43
5. Elkin's Rejection of Black Humor	46
III American-Jewish Writing-- Controversies Over Ethnic Commitment	55
1. Beginning at the End?	57
2. Selected American-Jewish Themes	64
a. Changing Neighborhoods	64
b. Nostalgia, Humor, Suffering	67
c. Jewish Store Owners	74
IV Modern Man in Consumer Culture-- Elkin's Orphans, Salesmen, and Consumers	81
1. Orphanhood and Salesmanship in "I Look Out for Ed Wolfe"	83
2. The Consumer's Perspective on the Sales Transaction in "Fifty Dollars"	92
V From Jewish Peddler to American Franchiser-- Merchandise in A Bad Man and The Franchiser	99
1. The Jewish Peddler	101
2. The American-Jewish Businessman	107
3. The American Franchiser	118

VI	The Problem of Communication between the Hero and his Audience in Elkin's Radio Novel, The Dick Gibson Show	133
	1. Radio Transmitted through the Medium of the Novel	135
	2. Showmanship and Salesmanship: Elkin's Radio Novel in the Context of his Oeuvre	140
	3. The Hero's Struggle towards an Ideal Radio Format through a Threefold Medium-Barrier	143
	a. Authority	143
	b. Magic	152
	c. Mystery	157
VII	Modern Man in Search for the Primitive-- The Fate of the Heroes in Searches and Seizures	167
	1. The Businessman Become Hunter	169
	2. The Capitalist Turned Rapist	177
	3. The Intellectual Become Suicide	185
VIII	Conclusion	197
	Appendix: "An Interview with Stanley Elkin"	213
	1. The Contemporary Interview	215
	2. Editorial Remarks	218
	3. Text of the Interview:
	Part I	220
	Part II	246
	Notes	267
	Bibliography	305
I	Works by Stanley Elkin	309
	1. Novels	309
	2. Novellas	309
	3. Short Stories	309
	4. Stories Republished in Novels or Novellas	311
	5. Miscellaneous Works	311
	6. Interviews	312

II	Publications on Stanley Elkin	313
	1. Biographical References	313
	2. Reviews	313
	a. Reviews of Boswell: A Modern Comedy	313
	b. Reviews of Criers and Kibitzers, Kibitzers and Criers	313
	c. Reviews of A Bad Man	314
	d. Reviews of The Dick Gibson Show	315
	e. Reviews of Searches and Seizures	316
	f. Reviews of The Franchiser	317
	g. Reviews of Miscellaneous Works	317
	3. Criticism	318
III	Secondary Works Consulted	319
	Index	331