

Table of Contents

Introduction .....	11
1. "Internal emigration" as a gesture of freedom (Dominik Tatarka and Ludvík Vaculík after 1968) .....	13
1.1 Official culture versus "alternative culture" within the model of the Czechoslovak Socialist Republic (ČSSR) .....	17
1.2 Tatarka's direction towards becoming a dissident .....	20
1.3 The Slovak question as a branch of opposition .....	25
1.4 Tatarka's contributions to national identity and aesthetic artistic creation .....	26
1.5 D. Tatarka and L. Vaculík .....	30
1.6 The year 1968, years of normalization and consolidation .....	33
1.7 The difference between the Czech lands and Slovakia during consolidation .....	36
1.8 Comparison – a summary .....	37
2. Traces of "autobiography" in fiction (On the question of authenticity of an artistic work) .....	41
2.1 Intensive and overt intervention of the author's strategy to the text .....	42
2.2 The first "authenticity" .....	47
2.3 Acceptance as the foundation of relations .....	48
2.4 The second "authenticity" .....	48
2.5 The first "sacred silence" of togetherness as an authentic experience .....	53
2.6 Loneliness as a reprimand .....	54
2.7 Tatarka's reflection of the social situation in Slovakia during normalization .....	58
2.8 The hat as a symbol .....	59
2.9 Death, night, solitude .....	61
2.10 A theoretical discourse on author-text-reader-interpreter relationship .....	62

3. Essays on culture (Aesthetic and political opinions) .....	69
3.1 The spiritual life of a nation or "creatio perpetua" .....	71
3.2 France and home .....	75
3.3 Tatarka and the Slovak nation .....	81
3.4 A "double" identity .....	82
4. Types of depiction .....	85
4.1 The peasant archetype and the picture of an intellectual .....	86
4.2 One-off portraits .....	88
4.3 Farská republika – a picture of 'brown' totalitarianism .....	90
4.4 Démon súhlasu – an image of red totalitarianism and schizofrenia .....	92
4.5 Depictions of women – mothers .....	96
4.6 Picture of women – marriages .....	98
4.7 Picture of women – outside of marriage as a symbol of desire .....	101
4.8 Magical maiden – picture of a Bratislava bohemian, process of creation, desire and dream .....	105
4.9 Self-portrait .....	107
4.10 Picture of the soul – "the inner place" .....	108
5. Water as the Beginning and End (The water motif) .....	111
5.1 The autobiographical (retrospective, self-characterizing) motif .....	112
5.2 The water motif in literature .....	115
5.3 The water motif in autobiography – in dreams .....	118
6. The relationship of nature and culture in Slovak literary modernism (Comparison of the nature-culture relationship in the work of J. C. Hronský and D. Tatarka) .....	121
6.1 Jan Patočka: the natural world as a philosophical problem .....	122
6.2 Hronský's subjectivity and interaction with the world .....	123
6.3 Tatarka's subjectivity and interaction with the world .....	126
6.4 "The Natural World" and culture in the creative work of J. C. Hronský and D. Tatarka .....	127
7. The Adventure of Humanity .....	131
7.1 Augustinus Aurelius (354- 430), his radiance and impulses for the philosophy of life .....	133
7.2 Existentialism in Tatarka and Camus (When the nadir of human existence means the highest level) .....	135
7.3 Absurdity as a boundary of despair and the start of searching .....	137
7.4 Death as a lifelong distinguishing mark .....	139

7.5	The wrongness of experience as a type of estrangement .....	142
7.6	Violent unnatural death – suicide .....	142
7.7	Revolt and freedom .....	145
7.8	Conclusion .....	148
8.	Freedom and dreams .....	149
8.1	The idea of freedom in the literary modern .....	149
8.2	An attempt at reconstructing the genesis of freedom in the mental and intellectual features of Dominik Tatarka .....	152
8.3	Freedom as fresh air .....	159
9.	Political systems of the 20th century and Tatarka's Community of God .....	161
9.1	The time of "Obec Božia" and the original manuscript .....	162
9.2	The prehistory of "Obec Božia" .....	167
9.3	The transformation captured in style .....	169
9.4	Civic expression and state power (The Community of God as a free society) .....	171
9.5	Discourse on "Obec Božia" .....	173
9.6	The permanent process of shaping the Community of God (Civic principle and Christian universalism) .....	177
10.	Tatarka's multilayered identity (The myth and reality of the author's archai) .....	179
10.1	A summary of knowledge from the viewpoint of identity .....	180
10.2	Results of research into the identity of the author .....	184
11.	The relativistic and materialistic perception of mankind (The postmodern and the work of Dominik Tatarka) .....	187
11.1	Dominik Tatarka in contemporary reflections .....	187
11.2	Postmodern theses .....	189
11.3	The postmodern and the authorial conception .....	191
11.4	Písačky – freedom and love .....	192
	Edition Note .....	197
	Résumé .....	199
	Works of Dominik Tatarka .....	205
	Archives .....	206
	References .....	207
	Index .....	215