

CONTENTS

AND LIST OF THE ENGRAVINGS.

— ENGRAVINGS. —

	Page
Dumfries—the Market Place,	Frontis.
New Brig of Doon with Burns's Monument,	9
Turnberry Castle, Ayrshire Coast,	19
Field of Bannockburn from the Gillies' Hill,	76
Portrait of George Thomson, the Correspondent of Burns,	116
The River Nith—Auldgirith Bridge and Blackwood House,	141
Brow, a Hamlet near the Solway Firth,	176
The Poet's Dream at Lincluden Abbey,	208
The Mausoleum of Burns at Dumfries,	258

ON THE GENIUS, CHARACTER, AND WRITINGS OF THE POET, BY PROFESSOR WILSON,	9-115
---	-------

CORRESPONDENCE WITH GEORGE THOMSON REGARDING THE SONGS CONTRIBUTED TO HIS COLLECTION OF SCOTTISH MELODIES,	116-178
---	---------

	Page		Page
Notice of GEORGE THOMSON, and his connection with Burns,	116	Year 1793.
Year 1792.
Mr. THOMSON to BURNS, desiring the Poet to supply songs suited to Scotch melodies,	121	Thomson to Burns, intimating his resolve to in- clude every Scotch air and song worth singing in the Collection,	127
Burns to Mr. Thomson, complying with the re- quest,	121	Burns to Thomson, approving the plan, sends his own "Lord Gregory,"	128
Thomson to Burns, with eleven songs, requesting him to substitute for them others of his own composition,	122	Burns to Thomson, with the song "Mary Morison,"	129
Burns to Thomson, containing "My ain kind Dearie, O," and "Will ye go to the Indies, my Mary?"	123	Burns to Thomson, with the songs "Wandering Willie," "Open the door to me, Oh!"	129
Burns to Thomson, with "My Wife's a winsome wee thing," "O saw ye bonnie Lesley,"	124	Thomson to Burns, with list of songs, with al- terations on "Here awa', Willie,"	129
Burns to Thomson, with "Highland Mary,"	124	Burns to Thomson, "Voice of Coila;" opinion on various songs, "The Lass o' Patie's Mill," &c.,	130
Thomson to Burns, suggesting alterations in the words of "Bonnie Lesley," &c.,	125	Thomson to Burns, Ballad-making,	131
Burns to Thomson, not approving of any altera- tion, also supplying another stanza to "My ain kind Dearie, O,"	126	Burns to Thomson, simplicity requisite in a song —sacrilege in one bard to mangle the works of another; with songs "Young Jessie," "The Soldier's Return," "Bonnie Jean," "Meg o' the Mill,"	131
Burns to Thomson, with "Auld Rob Morris" and "Duncan Gray,"	126	Burns to Thomson, with song "The Last Time I came o'er the Moor;" and a hint that Pleyel should not alter the original "Scottish airs,"	133
Burns to Thomson, with "O poortith Cauld" and "Gala Water,"	126	Thomson to Burns, "Pleyel does not alter a single note of the songs,"	133

	Page		Page
Burns to Thomson, with the song "Blythe hae I been,"	134	Thomson to Burns, Scottish airs are adapted for two voices,	163
Burns to Thomson, with "Logan Braes" and "O, gin my love were yon red rose,"	134	Burns to Thomson, "O Philly, happy be that day," "Contented wi' little," and "Canst thou leave me thus, my Katie?"	164
Thomson to Burns, with first book of Songs,	135	Thomson to Burns, "Your last budget demands unqualified praise,"	166
Burns to Thomson, with "Bonnie Jean,"	136	Burns to Thomson, "My Nannie's awa',"	167
Burns to Thomson, indignantly spurns the idea of any pecuniary transactions,	136	Year 1795.
Thomson to Burns, with notice of "Bonnie brucket Lassie," &c.,	137	Burns to Thomson, "For a' that, and a' that," and "Craigieburn Wood,"	167
Burns to Thomson, for Mr. Clarke,	138	Thomson to Burns, thanks for "Nannie's awa'," &c.,	168
Burns to Thomson, with the song "Phillis the Fair,"	138	Burns to Thomson, "O Lassie, art thou sleeping yet,"	168
Thomson to Burns, Allan's painting of "John Anderson, my jo,"	138	Burns to Thomson, from Ecclefechan,—detained by snow,	168
Burns to Thomson, "Had I a cave,"	139	Thomson to Burns, thanks for "Let me in this ae' night,"	169
Burns to Thomson, "By Allan Stream,"	139	Burns to Thomson, "O wat ye wha's in you town?" "Address to the Wood-lark," "On Chloris being ill," "Caledonia," "Twas na her bonnie blue e'e,"	169
Thomson to Burns, remarks on the songs and airs,	140	Thomson to Burns, acknowledges the songs in preceding letter,	170
Burns to Thomson, "O, whistle, and I'll come to you," "Adown winding Nith,"	141	Burns to Thomson, "How cruel are the parents," "Mark yonder Pomp,"	170
Burns to Thomson, "Come, let me take thee,"	141	Burns to Thomson, thanks for Allan's drawing of "The Cotter,"	170
Burns to Thomson, "Dainty Davie,"	141	Thomson to Burns, can never repay the Poet for the kind manner in which he has entered into the spirit of the undertaking,	171
Burns to Thomson, "Behold the hour,"	142	Burns to Thomson, with "Forlorn, my Love, no comfort near,"	171
Thomson to Burns, asking "twenty-three favours,"	142	Burns to Thomson, with "Last May a braw Wooer," "Chloris,"	171
Burns to Thomson, "Bruce's Address,"	143	Thomson to Burns, thanking the Poet,	172
Thomson to Burns, suggests alterations on "Scots wha ha'e,"	143	Burns to Thomson, with alterations on "Forlorn, my Love;" also "This is no my ain lassie," "Now spring has clad," &c.,	172
Burns to Thomson, "Thou hast left me ever," "Auld Lang Syne," &c.,	144	Thomson to Burns, introducing "Dr. Brianton,"	173
Burns to Thomson, with alteration on "Scots wha ha'e,"	148	Year 1796.
Thomson to Burns, thanks for observations on list of songs,	148	Thomson to Burns, "The pause you make is awful!"	173
Burns to Thomson, "Fair Jenny,"	149	Burns to Thomson, "Hey for a Lass wi' a Tocher,"	174
Burns to Thomson, "Deluded swain, the pleasure,"	149	Thomson to Burns, "It is the first time I have seen you debasing the god of soft desire, into an amateur of acres and guineas,"	174
Burns to Thomson, "Lovely Nancy,"	151	Burns to Thomson, "Alas, I fear it will be some time ere I tune my lyre again!"	175
Thomson to Burns, with thanks for song "Leiger'm choss,"	152	Thomson to Burns, "Do not give yourself up to despondency,"	175
Burns to Thomson, "My spouse, Nancy,"	152	Burns to Thomson, with certificate of copyright,	175
Year 1794.		Burns to Thomson, "Jessy,"	175
Thomson to Burns, Allan begins a sketch from "Cotter's Saturday Night,"	152	Burns to Thomson, from Brow, on the Solway Firth,	176
Burns to Thomson, "Here is the glen,"	153	Burns to Thomson, "After my boasted independence, curst necessity compels me to implore you for five pounds,"	177
Burns to Thomson, "Here where the Scottish muse immortal lives," &c.,	153	Thomson to Burns, "Again and again I thought of a pecuniary offer,"	177
Thomson to Burns, No more songs from Pleyel—desirous of being supplied with poetry,	154	From Mr. Thomson to Messrs. Blackie & Son,	177
Burns to Thomson, "On the seas and far away,"	154
Thomson to Burns, opinion of "On the seas and far away,"	154
Burns to Thomson, with "Ca' the ewes to the knowes,"	155
Burns to Thomson, with "She says she loe's me best of a'," &c.,	155
Thomson to Burns, Observations on "She says she loe's me," &c.,	156
Thomson to Burns, promises a copy of Ritson's "Collection of Scottish Airs," &c.,	157
Burns to Thomson, with "Saw ye my Philly," "How lang and dreary is the night," &c.,	158
Thomson to Burns, "The songs in your last will do you lasting credit,"	160
Burns to Thomson, "Chloris," "Chloe," "Lassie wi' the lint-white Locks," &c.,	161

CONTENTS.

vii

REMARKS ON SCOTTISH SONGS AND BALLADS,	Page 179
THE COMMON-PLACE BOOKS OF BURNS,	190

APPENDIX.

MANUAL OF RELIGIOUS BELIEF, in form of a Dialogue between Father and Son, compiled by William Burnes the Poet's Father,	205
--	-----

A PAINTER'S TRIBUTE TO BURNS.—Descriptive Notice of the Engraving of the Poet's Dream at Lincluden,	208
--	-----

POEMS WRITTEN IN MEMORY OF BURNS,	210-232
---	---------

	Page		Page
By William Roscoe, Esq.,	210	By Robert Nicoll,	220
" Thomas Campbell,	211	" David M. Moir (Delta),	220
" William Wordsworth,	212	" Ebenezer Elliot,	221
" James Montgomery,	212	" Eliza Cook,	222
" Robert Tannahill,	213	" Isa Craig,	222
" Rev. Hamilton Paul,	213	" Hon. Mrs. Norton,	223
" Hugh Ainslie,	215	" James Macfarlan,	226
" Fitzgreen Halleck,	215	" Janet Hamilton,	227
" David Vedder,	217	" Henry W. Longfellow,	228
" Mrs. Grant of Laggan,	217	" John G. Whittier,	229
" Captain Charles Gray, Royal Marines,	218	" Alexander Anderson,	230
" Robert Gilfillan,	219

BURNS FESTIVAL ON THE BANKS OF THE DOON, 1844,	232
--	-----

CENTENARY CELEBRATIONS, 1859,	235
---	-----

MONUMENTS TO BURNS,	257
-------------------------------	-----

PORTRAITS OF BURNS,	263
-------------------------------	-----

BIOGRAPHIES OF BURNS,	266
---------------------------------	-----

LIST OF PRINCIPAL EDITIONS OF BURNS'S WORKS,	268
--	-----

INDEX OF FIRST LINES OF POEMS AND SONGS,	273
--	-----

GENERAL INDEX,	279
--------------------------	-----