

CONTENTS

AND LIST OF THE ENGRAVINGS.

ENGRAVINGS.

	Page
Portrait of Burns, from the picture by A. Nasmyth,*	Frontis.
Colzean Castle, with the Fairy Coves,	54
Scene on the River Ayr at Barskimming,	114
Gavin Hamilton's House, Mauchline,	142
Tarbolton, with a Procession of the Brethren of St. James's Lodge,	160
The Braes of Ballochmyle, River Ayr and Howford Bridge,	165
Ayr—The Twa Brigs,	176
Kilmarnock Market Cross,	187
Kenmore and Taymouth Castle, Breadalbane,	218
Birks of Aberfeldy, Falls of the Moness,	220
Bruar Water, Lower Fall,	222
Gordon Castle, Speyside,	225
Loch-Turrit, among the Hills of Auchtertyre,	227
Portrait of Euphemia Murray of Lintrose. From a family miniature,	229

* See account of the original picture in Appendix to Vol. V.

ON THE GENIUS OF THE POET, BY THOMAS CARLYLE,	9-37
---	------

POEMS AND SONGS—1785 TO 1788,	41-260
---	--------

	Page		Page
Song—Rantin' Rovin' Robin,	41	The Auld Farmer's New-year Morning
Elegy on the Death of Robert Ruisseaux,	42	Salutation to his Mare Maggie,	86
A Fragment—"One night as I did wander,"	43	The Twa Dogs.—A Tale,	89
Fragmentary Song—My Jean,	43	The Author's Earnest Cry and Prayer to
Epistle to John Goudie,	43	the Scotch Representatives in the
Third Epistle to John Lapraik,	46	House of Commons,	96
Epistle to the Rev. John M'Math,	47	The Ordination,	102
Second Epistle to Davie,	50	Epistle to James Smith,	105
Song—Young Peggy blooms,	51	Epitaph on a Wag in Mauchline,	110
Song—The Braes o' Ballochmyle,	52	Epitaph on John Dove,	110
Halloween,	53	The Vision,	111
Fragment—Her Flowing Locks,	61	Song—Here's his Health in Water,	118
To a Mouse,	62	Address to the Unco Guid, or the Rigidly
The Jolly Beggars,	63	Righteous,	119
Travelling Tinker's Song,	73	The Inventory,	121
The Cotter's Saturday Night,	74	To John Kennedy,	123
Address to the Deil,	79	To a Louse,	124
Scotch Drink,	83	To Mr. M'Adam,	125

	Page		Page
Inscribed on a Work of Hannah More's,	126	Prologue spoken by Mr. Woods on his
The Holy Fair,	127	Benefit Night,	205
To a Mountain Daisy,	134	Verses intended to be written beneath
Song—Again rejoicing Nature sees,	136	a Noble Earl's Picture,	206
The Lament,	137	Song—My Lady's Gown there's gairs
To Ruin,	139	upon't,	206
Despondency—An Ode,	140	Hunting Song—The bonnie Moor-hen, .	207
Poetical Reply to an Invitation, . . .	142	Epigram on an Artist,	208
To Gavin Hamilton, Esq.,	142	Verses addressed to the Landlady of the
Song—My Highland Lassie, O,	144	Inn at Rosslyn,	208
Song—Will ye go to the Indies, my Mary?	145	Epigram on Elphinstone's Translation of
Epistle to a Young Friend,	146	Martial's Epigrams,	209
Address of Beelzebub,	149	Epigram—The Bookworms,	209
A Dream,	151	Epigram on Miss Burns,	209
A Dedication to Gavin Hamilton, Esq.,	155	Epitaph on the Schoolmaster of Cleish
Stanzas on Naething,	158	parish,	209
To a Medical Gentleman,	160	Political Address to Mr. William Tytler,	210
Farewell to the Brethren of St. James's		Epigram to Miss Ainslie in Church, . .	211
Lodge,	160	Epistle to William Creech, Edinburgh, .	211
On a Scotch Bard,	161	Epigram written at Inverary,	213
Song—Eliza,	163	Epigram on Miss Jean Scott,	214
A Bard's Epitaph,	163	Elegy on the Death of Sir J. Hunter Blair,	214
Epitaph for Robert Aiken, Esq.,	164	On reading in a Newspaper the Death
Epitaph for Gavin Hamilton, Esq., . . .	165	of John M'Leod, Esq.,	215
Epitaph on Wee Johnny,	165	To Miss Ferrier,	216
Song—The Lass o' Ballochmyle,	165	Epigrammatic Verses,	217
A Farewell,	167	Lines written on a Pane of Glass at Stirling,	217
Lines written on a Bank Note,	168	A Reproof by the Writer of the Lines, . .	218
The Farewell,	168	Reply to a Hostile Critic of the Lines, . .	218
Verses to an old Sweetheart after her		Written with a pencil over a Chimney-
Marriage,	169	piece at Kenmore, Taymouth,	218
The Calf,	170	Song—The Birks of Aberfeldy,	219
Nature's Law,	171	The humble Petition of Bruar Water, . .	220
Address to the Tooth-ache,	172	Written standing by the Fall of Fyers, . .	223
Willie Chalmers,	173	Epigram—The Highland Welcome,	224
Answer to a poetical Epistle from a Tailor,	174	Strathallan's Lament,	224
The Brigs of Ayr,	176	Song—Castle Gordon,	225
A Prayer,	183	Song—Lady Onlie,	226
Song—The gloomy night is gath'ring fast,	184	Song—Theniel Menzies' Bonnie Mary, . .	227
Lines on meeting Lord Daer,	185	On Scaring some Water Fowl in Loch-Turit,	227
Song—The Sons of Old Killie,	186	Song—Blythe was she,	229
Tam Samson's Elegy,	187	Epitaph for William Nicol, High School,
Epistle to Major W. Logan,	190	Edinburgh,	229
Fragment on Sensibility,	192	Epitaph on Mr. W. Cruickshank,	230
A Winter Night,	193	Song—A Rose-bud by my early walk, . .	230
Song—Yon wild mossy mountains,	196	To Miss Cruickshank,	231
Address to Edinburgh,	196	Song—The Banks of the Devon,	231
To a Haggis,	198	Song—Where, braving angry Winter's
To Miss Logan,	200	Storms,	232
Extempore in the Court of Session, . . .	200	Song—My Peggy's Face,	233
On William Smellie,	201	Song—The young Highland Rover,	234
Inscription on the Tombstone of Fergusson,	201	On the Death of Robert Dundas, Esq., . .	234
Verses written under the Portrait of		Birthday Ode,	236
Robert Fergusson,	202	Song—The bonnie Lass of Albanie, . . .	237
To Mrs. Scott of Wauchope,	202	Sylvander to Clarinda,	238

	Page		Page
To Clarinda,	239	Song—The Chevalier's Lament,	249
Song—I am my Mammie's ae Bairn,	240	Song—Of a' the Airts the Wind can blow,	250
Song—To the Weaver's gin ye go,	241	Epistle to Hugh Parker, Merchant,	251
Song—Macpherson's Farewell,	242	Song—O, were I on Parnassus' Hill,	252
Song—Stay, my Charmer,	243	Song—Naebody,	253
Song—My Hoggie,	243	Song—Louis, what reck I by thee,	253
Raving Winds around her blowing,	244	To Alexander Cunningham, Esq., Writer,	254
Song—Up in the morning early,	245	Song—"Anna, thy charms,"	254
Song—How long and dreary is the night,	245	Epistle to R. Graham, Esq., of Fintry,	255
Song—There was a Lass, they ca'd her Meg,	246	Song—The Fête Champêtre,	257
Song—Musing on the Roaring Ocean,	247	Song—The Day returns, my Bosom burns,	259
Song—To Daunton me,	247	A Mother's Lament for the Death of her
To Clarinda,	248	Son,	259
Song—The bonnie Lad that's far awa',	248	Song—The Lazy Mist,	260

INDEX TO FIRST LINES OF POEMS AND SONGS IN THIS VOLUME.

Adieu! a heart-warm, fond adieu!	160	Go, fame, an' canter like a filly,	190
Admiring Nature in her wildest grace,	218	Guid-mornin' to your Majesty!	151
Afar the illustrious exile roams,	236	Guid speed an' furdur to you, Johnnie,	46
Again rejoicing nature sees,	136	Hail, thairm-inspirin', rattlin' Willie!	190
Again the silent wheels of time,	200	Has auld Kilmarnock seen the deil?	187
A guid New-year I wish thee, Maggie!	86	Ha! whare ye gaun, ye crowlin' ferlie?	124
All hail! inexorable lord!	139	He clench'd his pamphlets in his fist,	200
Altho' my back be at the wa',	118	Here lies Johny Pigeon; what was his
Among the heathy hills and ragged woods,	223	religion,	110
Anna, thy charms my bosom fire,	254	Here lie Willie Michie's banes,	209
A rose-bud by my early walk,	230	Here Stuarts once in glory reign'd,	217
A' the lads o' Thornie-bank,	226	Her flowing locks, the raven's wing,	61
Auld chuckie Reekie's sair distrest,	211	Honest Will to heaven's gane,	230
A' ye wha live by sowps o' drink,	161	How long and dreary is the night,	245
Beauteous rose-bud, young and gay,	231	How pleasant the banks of the clear wind-
Blythe, blythe, and merry was she,	229	ing Devon,	231
Bonnie lassie, will ye go,	219	I am my mammy's ae bairn,	240
Cauld blaws the wind frae east to west,	245	I hae a wife o' my ain,	253
Cease, ye prudes, your envious railing,	209	I hold it, sir, my bounden duty,	142
Clarinda, mistress of my soul,	239	I lang hae thought, my youthful friend,	146
Curse on ungrateful man, that can be pleas'd,	202	I mind it weel, in early date,	202
Dear—, I'll gie ye some advice,	208	I'm three times doubly o'er your debtor,	50
Dear Smith, the sleest, pawkie thief,	105	In coming by the brig o' Dye,	227
Edina! Scotia's darling seat!	196	In this strange land, this uncouth clime,	251
Expect na, sir, in this narration,	155	Is there a whim-inspired fool,	163
Fair Empress of the Poet's soul,	248	Kilmarnock wabsters fidge an' claw,	102
Fair fa' your honest, sonsie face,	198	Know thou, O stranger to the fame,	164
Fair maid, you need not take the hint,	211	Lament him, Mauchline husbands a',	110
Farewell, dear friend! may guid luck hit		Let half-starved slaves, in warmer skies,	100
you,	167	Let other heroes boast their scars,	171
Farewell, old Scotia's bleak domains,	168	Let other poets raise a fracas,	83
Farewell, ye dungeons dark and strong,	242	Like Esop's lion, Burns says, "sore I feel,	218
Fate gave the word, the arrow sped,	259	Lone on the bleaky hills the straying flocks,	234
Friday first's the day appointed,	160	Long life, my lord, an' health be yours,	149
From thee, Eliza, I must go,	163

	Page		Page
Loud blaw the frosty breezes,	234	The gloomy night is gath'ring fast,	184
Louis, what reck I by thee,	253	The heather was blooming, the meadows were mawn,	207
Musing on the roaring ocean,	247	The lamp of day, with ill-presaging glare,	214
My blessings on you, sonsy wife,	208	The lazy mist hangs from the brow of the hill,	260
My curse upon your venom'd stang,	172	The poor man weeps—here Gavin sleeps,	165
My god-like friend—nay, do not stare,	254	There was a lad was born in Kyle,	41
My heart is wae, and unco wae,	237	There was a lass, they ca'd her Meg,	246
My heart was ance as blythe and free,	241	The simple Bard, rough at the rustic plough,	176
My lady's gown there's gairs upon't,	206	The small birds rejoice in the green leaves returning,	249
My Lord, I know your noble ear,	220	The sun had clos'd the winter day,	111
My lov'd, my honour'd, much respected friend,	74	Thickest night, o'erhang my dwelling!	224
My Peggy's face, my Peggy's form,	233	This wot ye all whom it concerns,	185
Nae gentle dames, tho' e'er sae fair,	144	Thou flatt'ring mark of friendship kind,	126
Nae heathen name shall I prefix,	216	Though cruel fate should bid us part,	43
No sculptur'd marble here, nor pompous lay,	201	Through and through the inspirèd leaves,	209
Now, Kennedy, if foot or horse,	123	To you, sir, this summons I've sent,	158
Now Robin lies in his last lair,	42	'Twas even—the dewy fields were green,	165
Of a' the airts the wind can blaw,	250	'Twas in that place o' Scotland's isle,	89
O Goudie! terror o' the Whigs,	43	Upon a simmer Sunday morn,	127
Oh! had each Scot of ancient times,	214	Upon that night, when fairies light,	53
O how can I be blythe and glad,	248	Wae worth thy power, thou cursed leaf,	168
O merry hae I been teethin' a heckle,	73	We cam na here to view your warks,	217
Once fondly lov'd, and still remember'd dear,	169	Wee, modest, crimson-tippèd flow'r,	134
One night as I did wander,	43	Wee, sleekit, cow'rin', tim'rous beastie,	62
Oppress'd with grief, oppress'd with care,	140	What ails you now, ye lousie b—h,	174
O Thou dread Pow'r, who reign'st above!	183	What will I do gin my Hoggie die?	243
O thou pale orb, that silent shines,	137	When biting Boreas, fell and doure,	193
O thou! whatever title suit thee,	79	When by a generous Public's kind acclaim,	205
O thou whom Poetry abhors,	209	When dear Clarinda, matchless fair,	238
O, were I on Parnassus' hill!	252	When death's dark stream I ferry o'er,	224
O wha will to Saint Stephen's House,	257	When lyart leaves bestrew the yird,	63
O ye wha are sae guid yoursel',	119	When Nature her great master-piece de- sign'd,	255
Rash mortal, and slanderous poet, thy name,	218	Where, braving angry winter's storms,	232
Raving winds around her blowing,	244	While at the stook the shearers cow'r,	47
Reverèd defender of beauteous Stuart,	210	Whoe'er he be that sojourns here,	213
Right, Sir! your text I'll prove it true,	170	Whoe'er thou art, O reader, know,	165
Rusticity's ungainly form,	192	Whose is that noble, dauntless brow?	206
Sad thy tale, thou idle page,	215	Why, ye tenants of the lake,	227
Shrewd Willie Smellie to Crochallan came,	201	Wi' braw new branks in mickle pride,	173
Sir, as your mandate did request,	121	Will ye go to the Indies, my Mary,	145
Sir, o'er a gill I gat your card,	125	Ye Irish lords, ye knights an' squires,	96
Stay, my charmer, can you leave me?	243	Ye maggots, feed on Nicol's brain,	229
Streams that glide in orient plains,	225	Ye sons of old Killie, assembled by Willie,	186
Tam Samson's weel-worn clay here lies,	190	Yon wild mossy mountains sae lofty and wide,	196
The blude-red rose at Yule may blaw,	247	Young Peggy blooms our bonniest lass,	51
The Catrine woods were yellow seen,	52	Yours this moment I unseal,	142
The day returns, my bosom burns,	259		