BOOK XIV

THE SURROUNDING EUROPEAN WAR DOES NOT END, 1742-1744

I. FRIEDRICH RESUMES HIS PEACEABLE PURSUITS	359
---	-----

Settles the Silesian Boundaries, the Silesian Arrangements; with manifest profit to Silesia and himself, p. 363.
Opening of the Opera-House at Berlin, 366.
Friedrich takes the Waters at Aachen, where Voltaire comes to see him, 367.

II. AUSTRIAN AFFAIRS ARE ON THE MOUNTING HAND	371
---	-----

War-Phenomena in the Western Parts: King George tries, a second Time, to draw his Sword; tugs at it violently, for Seven Months (February—October 1742), p. 372.

How Duc d'Harcourt, advancing to reinforce the Oriflamme, had to split himself in two; and become an 'Army of Bavaria,' to little effect, 376.

How Belleisle, returning from Dresden without Coöperation, found the Attack had been done,—in a fatally reverse way. Prag expecting Siege. Colloquy with Broglie on that interesting point. Prag besieged, 379.

Concerning the Italian War which simultaneously went on, all along, 381.

Scene, Roads of Cadiz, October 1741: By what astonishing Artifice this Italian War did, at length, get begun, 383.

Other Scene, Bay of Naples, 19th-20th August 1742: King of Two Sicilies (Baby Carlos that was), having been assisting Mamma, is obliged to become Neutral in the Italian War, 385.

The Siege of Prag continues. A grand Sally there, 386.

Maillebois marches, with an 'Army of Redemption,' or 'of Mathurins' (wittily so called), to relieve Prag; reaches the Bohemian Frontier, joined by the Comte de Saxe; above 50,000 strong (August 9th—September 19th), 388.

Prince Karl and the Grand-Duke, hearing of Maillebois, go to meet him (September 14th); and the Siege of Prag is raised, 391.

The Maillebois Army of Redemption cannot redeem at all;—has to stagger Southward again; and becomes an 'Army of Bavaria,' under Broglio, 392.

Voltaire has been on Visit at Aachen, in the interim,—his Third Visit to King Friedrich, 395.

Three Letters of Voltaire, dated Brussels, 10th September 1742, 397.

III. CARNIVAL PHENOMENA IN WAR-TIME 400

Retreat from Prag: Army of the Oriflamme, Bohemian Section of it, makes Exit, p. 401.

A Glance at Vienna, and then at Berlin, 405.

Voltaire at Paris, is made immortal by a Kiss, 408.

IV. AUSTRIAN AFFAIRS MOUNT TO A DANGEROUS HEIGHT 410

Britannic Majesty, with Sword actually drawn, has marched meanwhile to the Frankfurt Countries, as 'Pragmatic Army'; ready for Battle and Treaty alike, p. 416.

Friedrich has Objections to the Pragmatic Army; but in vain. Of Friedrich's many Endeavours to quench this War, by 'Union of Independent German Princes,' by 'Mediation of the Reich,' and otherwise; all in vain, 420.

V. BRITANNIC MAJESTY FIGHTS HIS BATTLE OF DETTINGEN; AND BECOMES SUPREME JOVE OF GERMANY, IN A MANNER 424

Battle of Dettingen, p. 425.

Britannic Majesty holds his Conferences of Hanau, 438.

Hungarian Majesty answers, in the Diet, that French Declaration, 'Make Peace, good People; I wish to be out of it!'—in an ominous Manner, 443.

Britannic Majesty goes home, 448.

VI. VOLTAIRE VISITS FRIEDRICH FOR THE FOURTH TIME 452

Friedrich visits Baireuth; on a particular Errand;—Voltaire attending, and privately reporting, p. 459.

VII. FRIEDRICH MAKES TREATY WITH FRANCE; AND SILENTLY GETS READY 468
