

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Preface	ix
PART I: COMPETENT ADULTS ENHANCING THEMSELVES	1
1 What if Your Virtual Life Surpasses Your Real Life?	3
2 Lessons from the History of Bioethics	13
3 Expanding the Mind	25
4 Building Better Female Bodies	37
5 Building Better Male Bodies	49
6 Is It Moral to Feel Better than Well?	65
7 Ways to Build a Longer Life	73
8 Is It Wrong to Live to One Hundred?	83
9 A Better Life with Personalized Genetics	93
PART II : CHOOSING BETTER FUTURE CHILDREN	103
10 Building Better Kids: Choosing Embryos	105
11 Eugenic Abortions?	117
12 Building Better Kids during Gestation	123
13 Building Better Kids: Vaccinations	135
14 Building Better Emerging Minds: Adderall and Ritalin	143

PART III: CHANGING HUMAN NATURE?	151
15 How Not to Think about Genetic Enhancement	153
16 Five Psychosocial Objections to Enhancing Genes	161
17 Cloning, Primordial Cells, Enhancement	175
18 Conclusions and Six Practical Proposals	183
Bibliography	193
Index	195