

Contents

PREFACE	xi
PROLOGUE
The President Defines the Problem	3
PART I: EARLY DAYS IN THE ATLANTIC
1. Bending the Pencil	9
2. A Destroyer for Sadie Hawkins Day	23
3. A Mirror to War: Fleet Problem XX	33
4. Germany: Ships and Strategy	51
PART II: THE NEUTRALITY PATROL
5. The Long, Bad Days Ahead	61
6. A Blue Flag at Ivigtut	83
7. Ceremonies Appropriate to a Neutral Nation	97
8. The German Response	107
9. A Passage to India	113
10. Plan Dog: Admiral Stark and the "Germany First" Decision	119
11. A Memento of a Ghostly Chase	125
PART III: THE ATLANTIC FLEET
12. Gentlemen from the Pacific	133
13. An Order with No Teeth	151

14. The Germans: Reckoning with Mahan	159
15. Bread and Butter for Ernie King	167
16. When the "Nazis" Invaded the New World	183
17. The First Shot: the Niblack Incident	191
18. A Certain Cold Place	197
19. A Goodly Company	213
20. New Man on an Old Ship: The Greer Incident	223
21. Buck Fever	233
PART IV: WAR
22. Admiral Bristol Runs the Milk	255
23. Sailors off the Kearny	265
24. "Old Sal" at the Windy Corner	281
25. "Did You Have a Friend on the Good Reuben James ?"	293
26. The Halifax Express	309
27. Turpentine and Red Roses: Sun-Tanned Atlantic Sailors ..	343
28. Air Raid Pearl Harbor	361
PART V: THE LAST CONVOYS
29. The Winter War	373
30. "Skipper, She Was Close Enough to Throw Spuds At!"	399
31. Saying Good-Bye to It All	413
32. A Cold, Black Shore	435
33. Phoenix	445
ABBREVIATIONS	447
NOTES	449
BIBLIOGRAPHY	485
INDEX
General	505
U.S. Naval Personnel	513
U.S. Ships	516