

Mailer's America

Joseph Wenke

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
Chapter 1 The Threat of Totalitarianism	8
Chapter 2 The Naked and the Dead: Beyond Liberalism; The Politics of Risk	24
Chapter 3 Barbary Shore: Bureaucracy and Nightmare	42
Chapter 4 The Deer Park: The Cost of Cowardice	51
Chapter 5 “The White Negro”: Seminal Mailer	69
Chapter 6 An American Dream: Dread, Magic, God, and the Devil	92
Chapter 7 Why Are We in Vietnam?: The Madness of America	116
Chapter 8 The Armies of the Night: Mailer as Participant	139

viii Contents

Chapter 9	Mailer's Nonfiction (1968–1972): The View of the Outsider	164
Chapter 10	From Marilyn to The Executioner's Song : Charisma and Estrangement	194
Chapter 11	Mailer in the 1980s: Mythic Imagination and Existential Mystery	217
	Conclusion	237
	Notes	241
	Bibliography	249
	Index	253