

The Body in Francophone Literature

Historical, Thematic and Aesthetic Perspectives

Edited by EL HADJI MALICK NDIAYE
and MOUSSA SOW

McFarland & Company, Inc., Publishers
Jefferson, North Carolina

Table of Contents

Foreword
DOMINIC THOMAS	1
Introduction
EL HADJI MALICK NDIAYE	7
Part I. Socializing Bodies
Perceived Body, Figurative Body
ISAAC BAZIÉ	14
The Body of the Reader-Author: The Case of Michel Tremblay
SARA BÉDARD-GOULET	26
Embodying Diasporic Identity: Materiality, Transformation and Creation in the Work of Abdellah Taïa
RYAN K. SCHROTH	42
“Opacité charnelle”: Reading Botanical Metaphors of Creole Identity in Patrick Chamoiseau’s “L’esclave vieil homme et le molosse”
NADÈGE DUFORT	58
Postmodern and Postcolonial Francophone African Autofictional Strategies of the Writing of the Self
KAREN FERREIRA-MEYERS	72
Part II. Performing Bodies
Performative Bodies in Nina Bouraoui’s Garçon manqué
ANN-SOPHIE PERSSON	84
Corporeal Expressions in Fatou Diome’s Writing
MOUSSA SOW	96

viii Table of Contents

The Diallobé and the Pulaaku: Ethnic, Ethic and Epistemic Use of the Body in Cheikh Hamidou Kane's Novels EL HADJI MALICK NDIAYE	109
Part III. Violating Bodies
The Body Speaks: Naming Violation in Mujawayo's and Belhaddad's Sur Vivantes ELIZABETH APPLGATE	126
Reading the Body Politic in the Prison Writings of Abdellatif Laâbi VICTOR REINKING	142
Nelly Arcan: Women's Bodies and What Is Left ANNA ROCCA	155
About the Contributors	169
Index	171