

Contents

Figures and Tables	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Preliminary Notes	xi
On the Arab Countries and “the Middle East and North Africa” (MENA)	xi
On Transliteration of Arabic	xi
Introduction: Uprisings and Revolutions	1
1. Fettered Development	7
The Facts	10
Poverty, Inequality, Precarity	15
Informal Sector and Unemployment: The Bouazizi Syndrome	22
Youth Underemployment	26
Female Underemployment	29
Graduate Unemployment	32
Fetters on Development	35
2. The Peculiar Modalities of Capitalism in the Arab Region	38
The Problem of Investment	39
Public and Private Investment	41
A Specific Variant of the Capitalist Mode of Production	50
1. Rentier and Patrimonial States	54
2. A Politically Determined Capitalism: Nepotism and Risk	60
The Genesis of the Specific Regional Variant of Capitalism:
An Overview	67

3. Regional Political Factors	76
The Oil Curse	77
From “Arab Despotic Exception” to “Democracy Promotion”	85
The Muslim Brothers, Washington, and the Saudis	93
The Muslim Brothers, Washington, and Qatar	100
Al Jazeera and the Upheaval in the Arab Mediascape	108
4. Actors and Parameters of the Revolution	114
Overdetermination and Subjective Conditions	114
The Workers’ Movement and Social Struggles	123
New Actors and New Information and     Communications Technologies	129
States and Revolutions	136
5. A Provisional Balance Sheet of the Arab Uprising	144
Coups d’État and Revolutions	144
Provisional Balance Sheet No. 1: Tunisia	145
Provisional Balance Sheet No. 2: Egypt	148
Provisional Balance Sheet No. 3: Yemen	155
Provisional Balance Sheet No. 4: Bahrain	160
Provisional Balance Sheet No. 5: Libya	163
Provisional Balance Sheet No. 6: Syria	172
6. Co-opting the Uprising	188
Washington and the Muslim Brothers, Take Two	189
Nato, Libya, and Syria	197
The “Islamic Tsunami” and the Difference between Khomeini     and Morsi	208
 Conclusion: The Future of the Arab Uprising	218
The Difference between Erdogan and Ghannouchi . . .	218
. . . And the Difference between Erdogan and Morsi	225
Conditions for a Genuine Solution	235
Notes	243
References and Sources	281
Index	303