

Contents

Figures, Map, and Tables	ix
Acknowledgments	xiii
Preface	xv
Contributors	xvii
1 China and South and Central Asia in the Era of Reform and Opening Thomas Fingar	I
2 China's Goals in South Asia Thomas Fingar	29
3 India's Relationships with the United States and China: Thinking Through the Strategic Triangle S. Paul Kapur	53
4 India's Rise and China's Response Hu Shisheng	69
5 Perception and Strategic Reality in India-China Relations Srikanth Kondapalli	93
6 Sino-Pakistan Ties: Trust, Cooperation, and Consolidation Syed Rifaat Hussain	116

7	Rebuilding Lifelines of Its Soft Underbelly: China Engages Its Southwest Frontiers	147
	Swaran Singh
8	Central Asia in Chinese Strategic Thinking	171
	Zhao Huasheng
9	China as a Balancer in South Asia: An Economic Perspective with Special Reference to Sri Lanka	190
	Saman Kelegama
10	China and Central Asia	216
	Sebastien Peyrouse
11	Managing Imperial Peripheries: Russia and China in Central Asia	240
	Igor Torbakov
12	China and South Asia: The Economic Dimension	273
	Vivek Arora, Hui Tong, and Cristina Constantinescu
13	China's Engagement with South and Central Asia: Patterns, Trends, and Themes	305
	Thomas Fingar
	Index	321