

Contents

Illustrations and Acknowledgments · ix

Preface · xv

Introduction · 1

- 1 · Prison and the Novel as Cultural Systems · 11
- 2 · The Novel and the Rise of the Penitentiary:
Moll Flanders and Robinson Crusoe · 43
- 3 · The City and the Rise of the Penitentiary:
A Journal of the Plague Year · 63
- 4 · Generic Conflict and Reformist Discourse
in Gay and Hogarth · 87
- 5 · Narration and “Civil Power”: Jonathan Wild in Fielding’s Career · 139
- 6 · Fielding and the Juridical Novel · 165
- 7 · The Aesthetic of Isolation as Social System · 201
- 8 · The Absorptive Tableau and the Public Execution:
A Postscript on Transparency as Practice · 231

Notes · 253

Index · 315