

Contents

Preface	vii
Acknowledgments	xi

Part I

1. On the Psychoanalytic Theory of Affects	3
2. On the Child's Laughter and the Function of the Comic	42
3. Normal and Pathological Moods: Their Nature and Functions	66
4. Denial and Repression	107
5. Depersonalization	137

Part II

6. On Depressive States: Nosological and Theoretical Problems	167
7. A Special Response to Early Object Loss	185
8. The Influence of Infantile Conflicts on Recurring Depressive States	204

9. On the Psychoanalytic Theory of Cyclothymic Depression	228
10. Psychotic Identifications	242
11. Differences between Schizophrenic and Melancholic States of Depression	264
12. Transference Problems in the Psychoanalytic Treatment of Severely Depressive Patients	284
13. Acting Out and the Urge to Betray in Paranoid Patients	302
Appendix: Follow-up of Cases	319
Bibliography	325
Index	337