

Planting New Towns in Europe in the Interwar Years:

Experiments and Dreams for Future Societies

Edited by

Helen Meller and Heleni Porfyriou

Cambridge Scholars Publishing

CONTENTS

Editors' Preface	ix
Introduction	xi
Helen Meller and Heleni Porfyriou
Chapter One.....	1
From Garden City to New Town: Social Change, Politics and Town Planners at Welwyn, 1920-48
Mark Clapson
Chapter Two	29
New Cityscapes and Perfect Civilians in the Netherlands 1920-40
Koos Bosma
Chapter Three	53
Hannes Meyer's New Towns in the USSR
Ferry Vermeer
Chapter Four.....	89
1930: The Czech Avant-garde, Karel Teige and the Preparation, through Experimentation, for the Socialist Urban Society of the Future
Alena Kubova
Chapter Five	109
New Towns and Cities in Reborn Poland between the World Wars
Piotr Marciniak
Chapter Six	145
In the Aftermath of Civil War in Helsinki 1918: Eliel Saarinen's Pro Helsingfors – General Plan and 'Imagining' the Great City
Laura Kolbe
Chapter Seven.....	177
Urban Aesthetics and National Unity: A Finnish New Town in the Making
Ulla Salmela

Chapter Eight.....	195
New Towns, New Nation: Europe and the Emergence of Zionist-Israeli Planning National Planning between the Wars Shira Wilkof
Contributors.....	229