

Contents

ILLUSTRATIONS	x
PREFACE	xi

PART I. THE BIOLOGICAL BACKGROUND AND ITS EDUCATIONAL IMPLICATIONS

By C. G. IVAN HUSSELL

1. The Importance of Man's Biological Background	3
Biological and Moral Questions	3
The Diversity of Man	4
Health	5
Public Education	7
Human Biology in the Schools	8
2. The Biological Nature of Man	10
The Characteristics of Man as an Animal	10
Primate Characteristics	12
The Characteristics of Homo sapiens	14
3. The Nature of the Vital Processes	17
The Nature of Man's Existence	17
The Object of Vital Activities	18
Nutrition	20
Respiration	24
Excretion	26
4. The Control of the Vital Processes	29
The Nervous System	29
The Autonomic Nervous System	36
The Nervous Impulse	37
The Endocrine Glands	38

5. Reproduction and Sex Education	43
The Nature of Reproduction	43
Male and Female Hormones	45
Contraceptive Drugs	47
Embryological Development	47
The Rhesus Factor	50
Parturition	51
Sex Education	52
6. Genetic Factors in the Life of Man	55
Basic Principles	55
The Genetic Mechanism in Practice	57
The Inheritance of Sex	60
Sex-linked Mutations	60
Factors Producing Mutations	63
The Nature of Genes	64
7. Evolution and Man	65
The Theory of Natural Selection	65
Evolutionary Evidence	66
The Evolution of Man	67
Human Cultures	71
The Significance of Man's Evolution	74
8. Development and Growth	78
The Theory of Maturation	78
Factors which Govern the Interpretation of Growth Data	79
The Phases of Growth	83
Factors which Affect Growth	90
9. Movement, Posture and Exercise	92
The Functions of Movement	92
The Principles of Movement	93
The Significance of Levers in the Body	95
The Control of Voluntary Movement	97
Muscle Tone and Posture	99
The Effects of Exercise	105

10. Health and the Teacher's Responsibility	108
Ill Health	108
The Body's Defences Against Disease	111
The Prevention of Disease	112
The Healthy Individual	114
The Teacher's Responsibility	114
Bibliography	120

PART II. THE PSYCHOLOGICAL BACKGROUND AND ITS EDUCATIONAL IMPLICATIONS

By ALICE F. LAING

11. The Social Heritage of Man	123
Man's Endowment	123
Contemporary Pressures in Society	125
The Problems and Possibilities of Democracy	129
Conclusion	130
12. Higher Mental Processes (I)	131
Intelligence	131
Perception	137
Imagery	139
Conclusion	140
13. Higher Mental Processes (II)	141
Learning	141
Remembering and Forgetting	147
Thinking	149
Conclusion	150
14. The Structure of Personality	152
Personality	152
Social Factors in Personality	153
Unconscious Elements in Personality	154
Recent Attempts to Assess Personality	160
Conclusion	162

15.	The Teaching of Normal Children	164
	The Learner	164
	The Method	168
	The Teacher	170
	Conclusion	171
16.	Freedom and Restriction	173
	Environmental Restrictions on Freedom	173
	Other Restrictions on Freedom	178
	Conclusion	180
17.	Differences in Children	182
	Gifted Children	182
	Severely Subnormal Children	184
	Educationally Subnormal Children	185
	Verbal Expression	186
	Introversion	188
	Speech Defects	189
	Conclusion	190
18.	Failure to Learn	191
	Backwardness	191
	Dull Children	192
	Retarded Children	193
	Other Handicaps	195
	Attention	197
	Interest	198
	Conclusion	198
19.	Personality Disorders	200
	Maladjustment	200
	Withdrawal	201
	Dishonesty and Theft	202
	Other Symptoms of Maladjustment	203
	Factors in Adjustment	206
	Child Guidance Service	207
	Conclusion	207

CONTENTS

ix

20. The Teaching of Children with Difficulties in Learning	209
What is Required?	209
Special Educational Treatment	210
Handicapped Children in Ordinary Schools	211
Reading	212
Number	213
Conclusion	216
BIBLIOGRAPHY	217
INDEX	219