

Contents

Acknowledgements

Introduction

DOLLAR BRAND Africa, Music and Show Business (An analytical survey in twelve tones plus finale)
geography
slave bell spiritual
western influence
rhythm afrique
blues for district six
'where loneliness' still waters meet nostalgia'
ballet for tired sons and lovers
wind up
double cross
'the terrored dusk screams'
the harmonica
Finale

DENNIS BRUTUS Climates of Love and Continents

Lutuli: December 10th 1961

'Miles of my arid earth'

'Greenness'

'By the waters of Babylon'

CONTENTS

'Milkblue-tender the moonlit midnight sky'
'I am the tree'
'The yellow gorse is out'
'I walk in the English quicksilver dusk'
'In the dove-grey dove-soft dusk'
En Route
'They backed the truck'
'Over the thunder-heads of terror we may fly'
'At noon we were heeling northward'
Christmas 1965
'Being the mother of God'

I. CHOONARA Scenes from a Cell

Response
Piccaninny Dream
A Monday Morning in March
On Streatham Common
Soliloquy
Asylum
'I am going to make'
Letter to Mamma
Gaza '67
'I am the king'

C. J. DRIVER Elegies of Light

Elegy for my Contemporaries
Afternoon in an African Township
A Ballad of Hunters

CONTENTS

A Love Song
A Public Man Confesses his Private Longings
The Eye of the Storm
One Way of Looking
The People of Darkness
Of Unknown Origin
Poem for a Higher Degree
To the Dark, Singing
Poem on a Bad Night
For the dead

TIMOTHY HOLMES Translations from Africa

Conceit
Unease
Fear
The Fossil
Lifegiver
The Other Face
A Ten-Liner
The Conquerors
Conquest
The Conquered
Reaction to Conquest
Ausonius

KEORAPETSE KGOSITSILE Elusive Poet for People Moving

For Melba
Manifesto
Shotgun
Origins
My People when Nothing Moves
For Those who Love and Care

CONTENTS

My People No Longer Sing
'Yes, Mandela, we shall be moved'
For Afroamerica
Whistle for Pennies

ARTHUR NORTJE Hollows for Travelling Music

Midnight
Thumbing a Lift
Poem
Windscape
Fading Light
Apartheid
Promise
Athol Fugard's Invitation
Continuation
Song for a Passport
Transition
Stream, Beach and Shadow: Scene
Hiroshima 21 and the Lucky
Dragon
Autopsy
London Impressions
Joy Cry
Night Ferry
Waiting Immigrant

Biographical Notes