

Table of Contents

John Drakakis

Foreword — VII

Sidia Fiorato

Introduction. Performances, Regulations and Negotiations of the Renaissance Body. Legal and Social Perspectives — 1

I Trying “Other” Bodies: The Witch, the Black and the Old

Beate Neumeier

(Disciplining) Monstrous Renaissance Bodies: Staging the Witch — 29

Mariangela Tempera

“...Languished..., and then died”: Courtroom Drama and the Bodies of the Victims in Thomas Pott’s The Wonderfull Discoverie of Witches (1612) — 61

Heinz Antor

Constructing Alterity: Race, Gender, and the Body in Shakespeare’s Othello — 73

Roxanne Barbara Doerr

Staged and Staging Bodies as Legal and Medical sites in Volpone — 107

II Codification of the Body Politic and Common Law Jurisprudence

Paul Raffield

Representing the Body of Law in Early Modern England — 135

Ian Ward

The Image of Power: Shakespeare’s Lord Chief Justice — 145

Riccardo Baldissone

With Teeth and Nails: The Embodied Inservitude of Étienne de La Boétie — 157

III Liminal Bodies: The Life/Death Edge on Stage and in the Body Politic

Daniela Carpi

The Funeral Oration over Caesar's Body: Techniques of Mass Communication — 183

Raffaele Cutolo

Motionless Bodies: Shakespeare's Songs for Sleep and Death — 207

IV Staging the Queenly Body: The Performance of a Female Body Politic

Cristina Costantini

Katechontic Elizabeth: The Physical Repository of Sovereignty through Law, Literature and Iconography — 229

Sidia Fiorato

Anna of Denmark and the Performance of the Queen Consort's Sovereignty — 247

Aspasia Velissariou

The Body Politic, Female Transgression and Punishment in Jacobean Tragedy — 273

Index — 295