

Contents

List of contributors	page ix
Introduction Ignacio M. Sánchez Prado, Anna M. Nogar, and José Ramón Ruisánchez Serra	I
PART I COLONIAL LITERATURE 15
1 The Languages and Literatures of Early Print Culture in the Colonia Heather J. Allen	17
2 A Chronicon of Crónicas : The New Spanish Prose Narrative Santa Arias	33
3 Theatricality and the Public Enactment of the Mexican Colonial Patricia Ybarra	53
4 Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz: The Tenth Muse and the Difficult Freedom to Be Catherine Boyle	66
5 Jesuit Enlightenment: Interventions in Christianity and Intellectualism Ivonne del Valle	81
6 Women in the Print Culture of New Spain Mariselle Meléndez	97
7 The Colonial Literary Scope: Empire, Letter, and Power Anna More	113

8	New Spain's Archival Past and Present Materiality Anna M. Nogar	128
PART II THE NINETEENTH CENTURY		141
9	Early Nineteenth-Century Nation-Building Prose Amy E. Wright	143
10	The Emergence of the Mexican Literary Field (1833–1869) Victor Barrera Enderle	158
11	The Rise of Cultural Institutions Shelley Garrigan	171
12	Liberal Literati Juan Pablo Dabóve	188
13	The Conservative Paradigm José Ramón Ruisánchez Serra	203
14	Mexican Modernismo Adela Pineda Franco	218
PART III TWENTIETH AND TWENTY-FIRST CENTURIES		231
15	The Ateneo de la Juventud: The Foundations of Mexican Intellectual Culture Pedro Ángel Palou	233
16	Regimes of the Avant-garde: Colonialists, Stridentists, Proletarians, Surrealists, Contemporáneos , and Independent Rupture (1920–1950) Yanna Hadatty Mora	246
17	The Institution of Fiction: From Yáñez, Rulfo, and Fuentes to Pitol and Del Paso Ryan Long	260
18	Octavio Paz: Literature, Modernity, Institutions Maarten van Delden	278
19	Mexican Poetry after the Avant-garde Rogelio Guedea	295

20	Nonfictions: Essay, Criticism, and Chronicle Beth E. Jörgensen	309
21	Balancing Acts: Twentieth- and Twenty-First-Century Mexican Theater Stuart A. Day	323
22	Women Writers in the Land of “Virile” Literature Nuala Finnegan	338
23	The Hidden Histories of Gender: LGBTQ Writers and Subjectivities in Mexico Michael K. Schuessler	350
24	Mexican Literature in the Neoliberal Era Ignacio M. Sánchez Prado	365
PART IV MEXICAN LITERATURE BEYOND BOUNDARIES		379
25	The Literatures of Greater Mexico A. Gabriel Meléndez	381
26	Indigenous Literatures of México Kelly McDonough and Gustavo Zapoteco Sideño	397
27	Writing Cinema: The Communicating Vessels of Literature and Film Niamh Thornton	411
28	Popular Narratives: Telenovelas, Corridos, Historietas, and Other Literary Pursuits Robert McKee Irwin and Maricruz Castro Ricalde	426
Index		441