

contents

1 THEORETICAL PERSPECTIVES	1
Introduction	1
The Three Theoretical Perspectives	4
Abandonment 4 Liberation 6 Diachronic Solidarity 7
The Age Structure of Modern Society	13
The Elderly in the United States 14
Social Theories of Old Age	19
Disengagement Theory 19 Disprivileged Minority Theory 20
Socialization to Old Age 21
Application of Modernization Theory to Old Age 21
Subculture Theory 23 Activity Theory 23
Age Stratification and Intergenerational Linkage Theory 24
Exchange Theory 25 Summary of Social Theories 27

Being Old in Modern Society	28
Reassurance of Continuity	29
Importance of the Aged	31
Solidarity in Society	32
Distributive Justice	33
2 ECONOMIC SECURITY IN OLD AGE	35
Introduction	35
Providing for the Elderly	36
Economic Fate of Old Age	39
The Income Position of Elderly Americans Compared with Younger Americans	39
Income by Families and Unrelated Individuals	41
Poverty and Old Age	44
Health Expenses	45
Change in Family Income	48
Income Inequality, Age and Diachronic Solidarity in the United States	49
Income Inequality	51
Norms of Distributive Justice	53
Evidence of Diachronic Solidarity	56
The Effect of Retirement on Income in the United States: Abandonment or Liberation?	59
Abandoned, Liberated, or Provided For?	61
Caring for the Elderly: The United States in Cross-National Comparative Perspective	66
The United States and Western Europe	67
The United States and Eastern Europe	70
The Economic Position of Older Americans Summed Up	71
3 THE POLITICS OF AGING	74
Introduction	74
The Position of the Aged	75
Our Three Perspectives and the Politics of Aging	76
Political Orientations and Attitudes	77
In the United States	78
In Other Countries	81

Political Behavior 83

- Political Interest in the United States 83
- Political Behavior in the United States 84
- Political Leadership in the United States 85
- Political Behavior in Other Countries 87

Intergenerational Conflict or Cooperation 89

- Ageist Attitudes 90 Political Support 91
- Politics of Age-Based Groups 93
- Intergenerational Conflict in the United States 95

Citizenship and Social Identity 98

Summary 100

4 RETIREMENT:
AN EMERGING SOCIAL INSTITUTION 102

Introduction 102

Old People and Work in Preindustrial Societies 105

- The Fate of the Elderly in Preliterate Societies 106
- The Fate of the Elderly in Historical Societies 107

The Rise of Retirement 110

Formal Retirement 111

Retirement in Contemporary Societies:
Mandatory or Voluntary? 113

- Older Women in the Labor Force 116
- Public Policy of Retirement 117
- Selective Retention Hypothesis 122

Reactions to Retirement 126

- Attitudes toward Retirement 126 The Retirement Role 132
- Poverty 134 Loss of Health 135
- Retirement and Suicide 138
- Retirement and Diachronic Solidarity 139

Beyond Performance: Retirement as an Emerging Social Institution 140

- Abandonment 142 Liberation 143
- Diachronic Solidarity 143

5 OLDER PEOPLE IN FAMILY LIFE	146
<hr/>
Introduction	146
Perspectives on Older People in Family Life	147
The Concept of Family and Traditional and Modern Polar Types	148
Marriage 149 Comparing Traditional and Modern Families	153
Forms and Functions	155
Old People and the Family in Contemporary Industrial Societies	157
Living Arrangements among Generations	158
Extended Families and Industrialization	162
Aging and the Family in the United States	164
After the Children Have Left	164
The Relationship Between Aging Parents and Children	165
Other Relatives	169
Variations in Subgroups	169
Summary	172
The Family and the State	172
Caring for the Elderly and the Law	173
Distribution of Health and Other Social Services	175
The Family: More than Intimacy at a Distance	177
6 ON DYING: PREMATURE SOCIAL ABANDONMENT	181
<hr/>
Introduction	181
Perspectives	181
Various Aspects of Death	182
Death in Modern Society	183
Denial of Death	184
Thoughts of Death	186
Dying	188
Stages of Dying	189
Deciding When or if to Tell the Patient	190

Being Unprepared for Death	192
Significance of Death 193
Conclusions 195
The Hospital: Organizational Inadequacy for Dying	196
Dying in Hospitals 197 Care for the Chronically Ill 198
Physicians and Nurses: Lack of Psychological Training for Terminal Care	199
For Physicians 199 For Nurses 200
The Consequence: Premature Social Abandonment of the Dying	201
General Care 201
The Hospice: Attempts to Integrate Dying with Living	205
Their Organization 205 Their Case 205
Research Medicine 206 The Future 207
7 ON DEATH AND BEREAVEMENT: LIBERATION AND ABANDONMENT	209
<hr/>
Introduction	209
Experiences of Near-Death 209 Their Interpretation 210
Exploring Death 211
The Personal Experience of Death: Liberation	212
Three Aspects of Death 213 Release from Social Life? 213
Interpretations of Death 214
The Nature of Grief and its Social Setting	216
The Nature of Grief 218
The Modern Funeral: Some Functions Missed, Some Fulfilled	220
Death and Christianity 220
Funerals and Diachronic Solidarity 225
Funeral Costs 226 Satisfaction with Funerals 227
Funerals as Integrators 229 Funerals and Mourning 231
Mourning Behavior 232
Summary	234

8 GROWING OLD: BONDS THAT BREAK, BONDS THAT HOLD	236
Introduction	236
The Syndrome of Old Age: A Descriptive Synthesis	237
The Aged in Preindustrial and Modern Societies	237
Diachronic Solidarity and Social Security	239
Diachronic Solidarity in the Family	245
Diachronic Solidarity in Politics	246
Diachronic Solidarity and Funerals	248
Phases of the Elderly in Family Life	249
Retirement 251 Death as Liberation	252
Contrasts Between the Nations: Evaluation of the American Way of Growing Old	254
Retirement and Public Financing	256
The Elderly and Public Support	256
The Elderly and Family Support	257
Families and Dying	260
Institutions and Death	261
Bereavement and Death	262
Comparing the Fate of Old Age	262
The Modern Fate of Growing Old	263
Diachronic Solidarity	265
Modern Individualism	267
Caring and Loving	271
Dying and Mourning	272
Religion and Death	274
References	276
Index	297