

Contents

Contributors	vi
Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction Andreas Nehring, Perry Schmidt-Leukel	1
Part 1 Comparison: Contestation and Defence
1 Comparative Methodology and the Religious Studies Toolkit Paul Hedges	17
2 Comparison in the Maelstrom of Historicity: A Postcolonial Perspective on Comparative Religion Michael Bergunder	34
3 Modes of Comparison: Towards Creating a Methodological Framework for Comparative Studies Oliver Freiberger	53
4 Comparison as a Necessary Evil: Examples from Indian and Jewish Worlds Philippe Bornet	72
Part 2 Phenomenology and the Foundations of Comparison
5 Camouflage of the Sacred: Can We Still Branch Off from Eliade's Comparative Approach? Andreas Nehring	95
6 The Singular and the Shared: Making Amends to Eliade after the Dismissal of the Sacred Kenneth Rose	110
7 Religious Practice and the Nature of the Human Gavin Flood	130
8 On All-Embracing Mental Structures: Towards a Transcendental Hermeneutics of Religion Fabian Völker	142
Part 3 Reciprocal Illumination and Comparative Theology
9 Comparative Theology and Comparative Religion Klaus von Stosch	163
10 Reciprocal Illumination Arvind Sharma	178
11 On Creativity, Participation and Normativity: Comparative Theology in Discussion with Arvind Sharma's Reciprocal Illumination Ulrich Winkler	191
12 Christ as Bodhisattva: A Case of Reciprocal Illumination Perry Schmidt-Leukel	204
Index	221