

Contents

I. Introduction .....	1
1. "Theoria: To Go Abroad to See the World" .....	3
2. Anthologizing Italy .....	8
3. Surveying the Anthology .....	15
4. Thanks and Acknowledgements .....	20
II. Illustrations.....	23
Descriptive List of Illustrations.....	58
III. Anthology .....	61
1. Crossing the Alps and Arriving.....	63
1.1 Fynes Moryson: Four Routes across the Alps .....	63
1.2 John Evelyn: A Dangerous Voyage to 'the Peculiar Joys of Italy'.....	64
1.3 Richard Lassels: 'The Several Ways by which a Man May Go into Italy' .....	65
1.4 John Resesby: Crossing from the Country of the Grisons.....	65
1.5 Horace Walpole: Tory and the Wolf.....	65
1.6 Thomas Gray: Tory and the Wolf Once More.....	66
1.7 John Boyle, Earl of Corke and Orrery: The Passage over Mount Cenis – Less Dreadful than Supposed .....	67
1.8 Samuel Sharp: The Chairmen of Mont Cenis .....	68
1.9 William Beckford: Entering 'Long-Desired Italy' .....	69
1.10 Peter Beckford: Feeling like Hannibal .....	70
1.11 Samuel Rogers: The New Simplon Pass.....	72
1.12 Aldous Huxley: Wanderbirds and Car-Drivers.....	73
1.13 Jonathan Keates: 'Getting There' .....	75
2. Il Giro d'Italia and Other Routes .....	78
2.1 Roger Ascham: 'Inglese Italianato, e un Diavolo Incarnato' .....	78
2.2 Henry Wotton: Diplomatic Advice for John Milton .....	79
2.3 John Milton: A Poet and a Puritan Doing the Tour of Italy .....	80
2.4 John Evelyn: Naples as the 'Non Ultra' .....	81
2.5 Thomas Gray: 'The Travels of T:G:Gent' .....	81
2.6 Lady Mary Wortley Montagu: Inundations of Boys and Governors .....	83
2.7 Edward Gibbon: To Naples and Back.....	83

2.8 Tobias Smollett: The Giro: A School for Coxcombs.....	85
2.9 James Boswell: The Giro: A Religious and Erotic Quest.....	86
2.10 Joseph Baretti: Advice to Go off the Beaten Tracks .....	91
2.11 Samuel Rogers: 'Am I in Italy?' .....	91
2.12 John Cam Hobhouse, Baron Broughton: A Shakespearean Pilgrimage .....	92
2.13 Lord Byron: 'The First Rush' after the Napoleonic Wars .....	92
2.14 Thomas Moore: An Epistle to End All Epistles from Italy.....	93
2.15 Anna Brownell Jameson: St. Peter's 'Metamorphosed into a Mere Theatre' .....	93
2.16 Marguerite Blessington: The English Community at Naples.....	94
2.17 Walter Savage Landor: Outrages Committed Against British Subjects in Tuscany and Other Parts of the Levant .....	94
2.18 Frances Trollope: 'The General Character of English Travellers' .....	97
2.19 Frances Trollope: Tourist Watching .....	98
2.20 John Ruskin: Italy – A Book, not a Dream .....	99
2.21 Robert Browning: 'Italy' Graved inside the Heart.....	99
2.22 Francis M. Elliot: Romans and Tourists in the Forum .....	100
2.23 John Addington Symonds: Off the Beaten Track.....	101
2.24 Vernon Lee: The South .....	102
2.25 Norman Douglas: Travelling by Rail 'in this Land of Multiple Civilizations' .....	104
2.26 Percy Lubbock: An English Expatriate Lady .....	105
2.27 Anthony Rhodes: 'Hardly any English left in Tivoli'.....	105
2.28 Charles Lister: 'Perchè Calitri' – Why Calitri, why Italy? .....	106
2.29 Richard Holmes: In the Footsteps of Percy Bysshe Shelley .....	107
2.30 Lisa St. Aubin de Terán: Settling in Sestri Levante.....	111
2.31 Duncan Fallowell: 'The Spine of Europe'.....	114
2.32 Jonathan Keates: In Praise of Emilia .....	115
3. On the Road: The Hazards of Travelling .....	118
3.1 Fynes Moryson: Down the Brenta by Boat.....	118
3.2 Fynes Moryson: The Guiles of Vetturini .....	119
3.3 Fynes Moryson: Making Friends with the Natives.....	119
3.4 Edward Herbert: The Milk of Human Kindness .....	120
3.5 Richard Lassels: The Dangers from Banditi and Gabella.....	121
3.6 John Reresby: Being Held up by a Prostitute and the Plague .....	121
3.7 Thomas Gray: Journeying from Siena to Rome .....	122

3.8 Samuel Sharp: 'The Horrors of an Italian Journey' .....	123
3.9 John Chetwode Eustace: The Via Appia: Then and Now .....	124
3.10 Edward John Trelawny: A Funeral Pyre for Shelley .....	125
3.11 Mariana Starke: The Hardships of Travelling in the South.....	126
3.12 William Hazlitt: Travelling with Books .....	127
3.13 William Hazlitt: 'Imaginary Bands of Brigands' .....	128
3.14 William Hazlitt: Beware of the Vetturini! .....	128
3.15 Walter Scott: A Notorious Case of Brigantaggio.....	129
3.16 Richard Keppel Craven: An Innkeeper Leagued with Banditti .....	130
3.17 Frances Trollope: Crossing the Magra .....	131
3.18 Charles Dickens: Doing Mantua with a Cicerone.....	131
3.19 Charles Dickens: The Osteria of La Scala .....	134
3.20 Edward Lear: How to Obtain Milk for Breakfast in Calabria .....	135
3.21 John Addington Symonds: The English Italophile Alienated from the Italians.....	135
3.22 Vernon Lee: The Motor-Car and the Genius Loci .....	136
3.23 Aldous Huxley: 'A Night at Pietramala'.....	137
4. The Perception of Otherness .....	142
4.1 The Classical Heritage.....	142
4.1.1 Fynes Moryson: The Cave of the Sibyl of Cuma .....	142
4.1.2 Thomas Coryate: Virgil and Mantua.....	143
4.1.3 Joseph Addison: The Antiquities near Naples .....	143
4.1.4 George Berkeley: A Pilgrimage to the Birthplace of Horace .....	144
4.1.5 Horace Walpole: The Excavation of Herculaneum .....	145
4.1.6 Tobias Smollett: The Venus de Medicis .....	146
4.1.7 James Boswell: 'Sublime and Melancholy Emotions' .....	146
4.1.8 William Beckford: Viewing the Antiquities the Non-scientific Way ...	147
4.1.9 Hester Lynch Piozzi: Reflections on the Coliseum .....	148
4.1.10 John Chetwode Eustace: Virgil's Tomb: 'A Lurking Place of Sbirri'..	149
4.1.11 Percy Bysshe Shelley: The Thermae of Caracalla .....	150
4.1.12 Anna Brownell Jameson: The Venus de Medicis and an English Esthete .....	151
4.1.13 William Hazlitt: The Venus de Medicis: 'An Exquisite Marble Doll' .....	151
4.1.14 Frances Trollope: Projects for Pompeii and Herculaneum.....	152
4.1.15 Henry George Lewes: 'Hideous Obscenity' in Pompeian Bedrooms ..	153
4.1.16 George Gissing: Lunch at Sybaris.....	154

4.1.17 D.H. Lawrence: 'The Life-Loving Etruscans'.....	155
4.1.18 Charles Lister: Tracing the Appian Way .....	157
4.1.19 Fiona Pitt-Kethley: Into the Underworld.....	160
4.2 Arts and Learning.....	163
4.2.1 Fynes Moryson: First News of Michelangelo.....	163
4.2.2 Thomas Coryate: A Venetian Playhouse .....	163
4.2.3 Henry Wotton: 'The Strangest Piece of News'.....	164
4.2.4 John Evelyn: Gli Uffizi, 'that Renowned Ceimeliarcha'.....	164
4.2.5 John Evelyn: The Vatican Library.....	165
4.2.6 John Evelyn: An English Student at Padua University.....	166
4.2.7 John Raymond: Vicenza and Palladio .....	167
4.2.8 Richard Lassels: Academies of Wit.....	167
4.2.9 Francis Mortoft: 'The Sweet Singer and Eunuch Bonaventura' .....	168
4.2.10 Joseph Addison: The Ambrosian Library in Milan .....	168
4.2.11 Joseph Addison: Italian Poetry and Comedy .....	168
4.2.12 Joseph Spence: Libraries 'That a Lady might see with Pleasure' .....	169
4.2.13 Joseph Spence: The Opera Season in Rome .....	170
4.2.14 Joseph Spence: Musical Orphans in Venice .....	171
4.2.15 Lady Mary Wortley Montagu: Learned Women Appreciated .....	172
4.2.16 Tobias Smollett: Finding Fault with Raphael and Michelangelo.....	172
4.2.17 Samuel Sharp: The Prejudice of Italian Enthusiasm for Music .....	173
4.2.18 Charles Burney: A Musical Accademia.....	174
4.2.19 Charles Burney: Where are the Castrati Castrated? .....	174
4.2.20 William Beckford: A Pilgrimage to Petrarch's Tomb .....	175
4.2.21 Hester Lynch Piozzi: 'Divine Guercino' and the Scuola Bolognese....	176
4.2.22 Joseph Forsyth: Signora Fantastici and the Art of Improvvisatori .....	177
4.2.23 Samuel Rogers: The Stanze of Raphael, a Fricassee of Frogs & Porcupine and the Opera .....	178
4.2.24 Percy Bysshe Shelley: Michelangelo Debunked .....	178
4.2.25 William Wordsworth: At Florence .....	179
4.2.26 Mariana Starke: Perfect Decorum at the Scala di Milano.....	179
4.2.27 William Hazlitt: At the Turin Opera House.....	180
4.2.28 William Hazlitt: In Praise of Guido Reni.....	180
4.2.29 Richard Keppel Craven: Prime Donne at Campobasso .....	181
4.2.30 Frances Trollope: An All-Italian Congress of Savants .....	183
4.2.31 Charles Dickens: Leonardo da Vinci's 'Last Supper' .....	184

4.2.32 Charles Dickens: Canova vs. Bernini.....	184
4.2.33 John Ruskin: Revising the Canon of Italian Art .....	185
4.2.34 George E. Street: Giotto vs. Palladio .....	186
4.2.35 Janet Ross: The Pipe of Spring .....	188
4.2.36 John Addington Symonds: The Quest for Michelangelo .....	189
4.2.37 Aldous Huxley: 'The Greatest Picture in the World'.....	189
4.2.38 Charles Lister: Rudolph Valentino.....	192
4.2.39 Jonathan Keates: Orazio Gentileschi Rescued from Women's Studies .....	194
 4.3 Religious Difference.....	 197
4.3.1 Thomas Hoby: Jubilee Year in Rome .....	197
4.3.2 Anthony Munday: The English College in Rome.....	197
4.3.3 Henry Wotton: English Catholics in Italy – a Danger to English Travellers.....	198
4.3.4 Thomas Coryate: A Disputation with the Jews of Venice .....	199
4.3.5 William Lithgow: A Frolicsome Pilgrimage to Loreto .....	200
4.3.6 Edward Herbert: A Philosopher and the Inquisition.....	201
4.3.7 John Evelyn: Christmas in Rome.....	202
4.3.8 Richard Lassels: Loreto: 'Nothing is Impossible to God'.....	202
4.3.9 Gilbert Burnet: 'The Highest Pitch of Blasphemy'.....	203
4.3.10 Gilbert Burnet: The Nuns of Venice .....	203
4.3.11 Gilbert Burnet: Catholicism and the Malaria.....	204
4.3.12 Joseph Addison: The Desolation in the Pope's Territories and the Genius of the Roman Catholic Religion.....	205
4.3.13 Joseph Addison: 'One of the Most Bungling Tricks that I Ever Saw'.	206
4.3.14 Tobias Smollett: The Most Damnable Transgression .....	207
4.3.15 Joseph Baretti: A Plea for Tolerance.....	207
4.3.16 Hester Lynch Piozzi: The Catacombs and the Relics .....	209
4.3.17 Samuel Rogers: Elegant Ceremonies.....	209
4.3.18 Lady Sidney Morgan: The Oxen of the Church.....	210
4.3.19 Anna Brownell Jameson: Sympathizing with Superstition .....	210
4.3.20 Mariana Starke: Holy Thursday in Rome: How to See it All.....	211
4.3.21 William Hazlitt: Pilgrims to Rome.....	211
4.3.22 Henry Crabb Robinson: 'The Fête of Corpus Domini'.....	213
4.3.23 Charles Dickens: Unprepossessing Priests .....	213
4.3.24 John Addington Symonds: 'The Crucifix of Crema' .....	214

4.3.25 Francis M. Elliot: 'An Audience of the Pope'.....	216
4.3.26 Samuel Butler: 'Wishing to be a Catholic in Catholic Countries' .....	218
4.3.27 Janet Ross: 'A Curious and a Most Horrible Sight' .....	219
4.3.28 George Gissing: 'The End of Theocracy' .....	220
4.3.29 Oscar Wilde: Oscar Wilde's Last Pilgrimage .....	220
4.3.30 Norman Douglas: The Flying Monk of Copertino .....	222
4.4 Government and Politics .....	225
4.4.1 Robert Dallington: The Rich Despots of Tuscany .....	225
4.4.2 Richard Lassels: 'The Government of Rome' .....	227
4.4.3 Joseph Addison: Italian Beauty vs. British Liberty .....	227
4.4.4 Joseph Addison: Political Constitutions: Venice – San Marino – Modena and Parma.....	228
4.4.5 Hester Lynch Piozzi: The Grand Duke of Tuscany.....	230
4.4.6 J.B.S. Morritt: The King of Naples, the Lazzaroni and the Nobles .....	231
4.4.7 John Chetwode Eustace: Italy Degraded into a French Province .....	231
4.4.8 Lady Sidney Morgan: The British Minister and the Italian Reactionaries .....	232
4.4.9 Lord Byron: A Free Italy.....	233
4.4.10 John Cam Hobhouse, Baron Broughton: Roman Government .....	234
4.4.11 Anna Brownell Jameson: Refusing to Discuss Italian Politics .....	236
4.4.12 William Hazlitt: Italy and English Politics .....	237
4.4.13 Edward Lear: Revolution in Calabria .....	237
4.4.14 George Eliot: Caring more for Giotto than Cavour .....	239
4.4.15 John Addington Symonds: Italia Unita and the Mafia.....	239
4.4.16 Norman Douglas: Italian Bureaucracy and the 'Sense of Law-Breaking'.....	240
4.4.17 Osbert Sitwell: An Interview with d'Annunzio .....	242
4.4.18 D.H. Lawrence: D'Annunzio and the Fall of Fiume.....	246
4.4.19 Anthony Rhodes: At a Festa dell' Unità.....	249
4.4.20 Duncan Fallowell: The Maxi Processi against the Mafia .....	252
4.5 Social and Sexual Manners .....	256
4.5.1 Thomas Hoby: Death in Venice .....	256
4.5.2 Thomas Coryate: The Venetian Courtesans Anatomised .....	256
4.5.3 Thomas Coryate: Forks and the Civilizing Process.....	259
4.5.4 George Sandys: The Gentlemen of Messina .....	259

4.5.5 Richard Lassels: Roman Remedies for Ill-Married Women and Penitent Whores .....	260
4.5.6 Richard Lassels: Carnival in Rome .....	260
4.5.7 Lady Mary Wortley Montagu: 'The Prodigious Alteration in Regard to our Sex' .....	262
4.5.8 Tobias Smollett: Shopkeeping Nobility.....	263
4.5.9 Samuel Sharp: Cavalieri serventi and Cicisbei .....	263
4.5.10 Joseph Baretti: Cicisbei and Platonic Philosophy .....	265
4.5.11 Hester Lynch Piozzi: Cicisbeism Re-Considered .....	266
4.5.12 Hester Lynch Piozzi: The Conversazioni at Naples.....	266
4.5.13 Peter Beckford: 'I Cannot Recommend their Taste' .....	267
4.5.14 Lord Byron: A Self-Portrait of the Expatriate Poet as Cavaliere Servente.....	269
4.5.15 Lord Byron: 'A Volume of Manners' in two Pages .....	273
4.5.16 Richard Keppel Craven: Labourers, Priests, and the Middling Class.....	274
4.5.17 Edward Lear: The Italians and Animals .....	276
4.5.18 John Ruskin: Poverty Considered as a Fine Art .....	277
4.5.19 Samuel Butler: A Day at the 'Cantine' .....	277
4.5.20 George Gissing: 'The Sindaco's Embarrassment' .....	278
4.5.21 D.H. Lawrence: 'The Old, Salty Way of Love' .....	279
4.5.22 Arnold Bennett: Banking in Italy .....	280
4.5.23 Charles Lister: The Passeggiata and the Mating Business .....	281
4.5.24 Fiona Pitt-Kethley: Latin Lovers.....	282
4.5.25 Fiona Pitt-Kethley: Gay Prostitutes and Razzisti at Palermo Railway Station .....	283
 4.6 National Character .....	 285
4.6.1 Fynes Moryson: Italian Effeminacy, Revenge and Lust .....	285
4.6.2 James Howell: The Italians: A Caveat .....	286
4.6.3 Richard Lassels: Italian Wit, Italian Humour and Italian Manners .....	287
4.6.4 Gilbert Burnet: 'The Degeneracy of the Italians'.....	288
4.6.5 Joseph Addison: The French, the Spanish, and the Italians .....	288
4.6.6 Lady Mary Wortley Montagu: 'A Style in Everything' .....	289
4.6.7 Samuel Sharp: 'Love of Show' .....	289
4.6.8 Joseph Baretti: The Necessity of Making Distinctions .....	290
4.6.9 William Beckford: 'Pretensions of Importance' and 'Inattention to Domestic Economy' .....	291

4.6.10 Hester Lynch Piozzi: The Italians – Quite Unlike the English .....	291
4.6.11 Samuel Taylor Coleridge: 'Creatures of Habit and Momentary Passions' .....	293
4.6.12 Samuel Rogers: The Picturesque Italian Women .....	293
4.6.13 Percy Bysshe Shelley: 'The Modern Italians' and the 'Two Italies' .....	294
4.6.14 Lord Byron: 'The Fatal Gift of Beauty' .....	294
4.6.15 Lord Byron: Poisoning and 'The Passions of a Sunny Soil' .....	295
4.6.16 Marguerite Blessington: Dolce Far' Niente .....	295
4.6.17 William Hazlitt: The Myth of Italian Sloth Exploded .....	296
4.6.18 Richard Keppel Craven: Modern Decay .....	297
4.6.19 John Ruskin: The Modern Italians .....	297
4.6.20 Robert Browning: 'The Uninterestingness of the Italians Individually' .....	298
4.6.21 Samuel Butler: The High Standard of Courtesy and Good Manners .....	299
4.6.22 Arthur Symons: North and South .....	300
4.6.23 George Gissing: The Woe within the Gaiety .....	300
4.6.24 George Gissing: 'An Innate Respect for Things of the Mind' .....	301
4.6.25 D.H. Lawrence: 'The Secret of Italy's Attraction for us' .....	302
4.6.26 Eric Newby: Italian Hospitality .....	303
4.6.27 Anthony Rhodes: The Charming, Grasping and Dishonest Italians .....	305
4.6.28 Anthony Rhodes: The Town of the Beautiful Women .....	306
4.6.29 Duncan Fallowell: The Italians, The French – and the English .....	306
4.6.30 Jonathan Keates: Italy and the Art of Living in Cities .....	308
 4.7 Nature .....	 310
4.7.1 Thomas Coryate: 'The Very Paradise and Canaan of Christendom' .....	310
4.7.2 John Evelyn: Climbing Mount Vesuvius .....	310
4.7.3 Richard Lassels: Glow-Worms in the Po Valley .....	311
4.7.4 Francis Mortoft: 'Rare Water Works' .....	311
4.7.5 Joseph Addison: 'Poetic Fields' and 'Classic Ground' .....	313
4.7.6 Joseph Addison: Cascata Delle Marmore and River Nar .....	313
4.7.7 George Berkeley: Tarantuli in Bari .....	315
4.7.8 Thomas Gray: Nature 'Pregnant with Religion and Poetry' .....	316
4.7.9 Tobias Smollett: 'An Object of Tremendous Sublimity' .....	316
4.7.10 Patrick Brydone: Science and Superstition Meeting on Mount Aetna .....	317

4.7.11 Hester Lynch Piozzi: 'Living in Eden Still': The Isola Bella .....	319
4.7.12 Richard Colt Hoare: The Terrors of Scylla and Charybdis and the Improvement of Science.....	319
4.7.13 Joseph Forsyth: The Beauties of Landscape.....	321
4.7.14 Samuel Rogers: Vallombrosa and Milton and Ariosto and Politian and Eustace and .....	321
4.7.15 Percy Bysshe Shelley: An Excursion to Vesuvius.....	322
4.7.16 Lady Sidney Morgan: Italian Gardening: 'The Abortions of Degenerate Art' .....	323
4.7.17 Anna Brownell Jameson: Picturesque Italy .....	323
4.7.18 John Ruskin: In the Light of Turner.....	324
4.7.19 Frances Trollope: Germany more Picturesque than Italy.....	325
4.7.20 Thomas Adolphus Trollope: Picturesque Vines and Acrid Wine.....	325
4.7.21 George Henry Lewes: Far from the 'Intellectual Strife' of English Life .....	325
4.7.22 John Addington Symonds: The Charm of a Tuscan View .....	326
4.7.23 Janet Ross: The Mare Piccolo of Taranto.....	327
4.7.24 Vernon Lee: The Ilex Woods of Umbria and the Anchorites.....	330
4.7.25 Norman Douglas: The Blue Grotto and the Packaging of Nature .....	331
4.7.26 Evelyn Waugh: 'Etna at Sunset'.....	335
4.7.27 Anthony Rhodes: The Cascata delle Marmore, Once More.....	335
4.7.28 Lisa St. Aubin de Terán: The Wild Boars of Tuscany .....	335
5. Italian Cities .....	337
5.1 Venice .....	337
5.1.1 Thomas Coryate: Venice Seen from Above .....	337
5.1.2 John Evelyn: 'The Strange Variety of the Several Nations'.....	338
5.1.3 Richard Lassels: The Doge Marrying the Sea .....	339
5.1.4 Richard Lassels: A Mistress rather than a Wife .....	340
5.1.5 Lady Mary Wortley Montagu: High Life in Venice .....	340
5.1.6 William Beckford: 'The Liveliest Picture Imaginable' .....	341
5.1.7 Hester Lynch Piozzi: On first Looking at Canaletto's Venice.....	342
5.1.8 John Chetwode Eustace: Venice not Preserved.....	343
5.1.9 Lord Byron: 'The Thing that most Struck my Imagination in Venice'..	344
5.1.10 Lord Byron: 'A Dying Glory' .....	345
5.1.11 Percy Bysshe Shelley: 'Once a Tyrant, now a Slave' .....	346
5.1.12 John Cam Hobhouse, Baron Broughton: The Gondoliers' Song .....	346

5.1.13 Frances Trollope: Swimming in a Gondola .....	347
5.1.14 John Ruskin: Venice Destroyed .....	348
5.1.15 Edward Lear: The Pictures better than the Real Thing.....	349
5.1.16 John Ruskin: Venice Created by Byron.....	349
5.1.17 John Addington Symonds: 'Studying Venetian Decadence'.....	350
5.1.18 Arthur Symonds: Spectacular Venice .....	351
5.1.19 Jan Morris: Imperial Venice.....	353
5.2 Florence .....	356
5.2.1 Henry Wotton: 'A Paradise Inhabited with Devils'.....	356
5.2.2 Horace Walpole: Carnival, Society and Duelling in Florence.....	356
5.2.3 John Boyle, Earl of Corke and Orrery: Horace Mann and Florentine Manners .....	357
5.2.4 Samuel Rogers: 'The Golden Days of Florence'.....	359
5.2.5 Lady Sidney Morgan: The Loggia dei Lanzi .....	359
5.2.6 William Hazlitt: 'A Town that has Survived Itself'.....	360
5.2.7 John Ruskin: Unlovable Florence, Divine and Heavenly.....	361
5.2.8 Arthur Symonds: Florence and Donatello .....	362
5.2.9 Arnold Bennett: 'First Walk through Town'.....	363
5.3 Rome .....	364
5.3.1 William Lithgow: 'Viewing the Gorgeous Mosaical Work of St. Peter's'.....	364
5.3.2 George Berkeley: A Day of Sightseeing in Rome.....	365
5.3.3 Joseph Spence: The Mixture that is Rome.....	366
5.3.4 Edward Gibbon: The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire.....	367
5.3.5 Tobias Smollett: Le Fontane di Roma .....	367
5.3.6 Samuel Sharp: 'A Melancholy Place' Called Rome.....	368
5.3.7 Anna Brownell Jameson: The Coliseum by Moonlight.....	368
5.3.8 Lord Byron: Nothing of Rome?.....	369
5.3.9 William Hazlitt: 'Great only in Ruins' .....	369
5.3.10 Edward Lear: The Wonderful Illumination of St. Peter's .....	370
5.3.11 Charles Dickens: A First View of Rome .....	370
5.3.12 George Eliot: 'Disappointment Relieved' .....	371
5.3.13 Francis M. Elliot: In the Footsteps of the Apostles .....	372
5.3.14 Arthur Symonds: A Roman Sunset.....	373
5.3.15 Hilaire Belloc: The End of the Path to Rome .....	374

5.3.16 Elizabeth Bowen: 'Roma Sparita' .....	377
5.4 Naples .....	381
5.4.1 George Sandys: The Beauties of Naples .....	381
5.4.2 John Evelyn: The Most Magnificent City in Europe .....	381
5.4.3 George Berkeley: Ischia and Naples .....	382
5.4.4 John Bacon Sawrey Morritt: The Most Notable Sight of Naples: Lady Hamilton's Attitudes .....	383
5.4.5 Percy Bysshe Shelley: Winter in Naples .....	384
5.4.6 Lady Sidney Morgan: Lazzaroni and Dolce Far Niente .....	384
5.4.7 Mariana Starke: 'The Character of the Neapolitans' .....	386
5.4.8 Marguerite Blessington: 'A Ghastly Masquerade' .....	386
5.4.9 Evelyn Waugh: Chastity, Neapolitan Style .....	388
5.4.10 Eric Newby: An Evening in Piazza Sannazzaro .....	389
6. Off the Beaten Tracks and the Mezzogiorno .....	395
6.1 Richard Torkington: Passing through Calabria and Sicily on the Pilgrimage to Jerusalem .....	395
6.2 Thomas Hoby: Hospitality at the Coast of Amalfi .....	395
6.3 George Sandys: Sicily, the Sicilians and the French Disease .....	397
6.4 George Berkeley: 'Their Gusto too Rich and Luxuriant' .....	398
6.5 Patrick Brydone: 'A Strange Species of Madness' .....	399
6.6 Patrick Brydone: Sicilian Proficiency in English .....	401
6.7 Henry Crabb Robinson: Sicily, 'The Crown and Completion of Every Italian Tour' .....	401
6.8 Richard Keppel Craven: Little Known Castel del Monte .....	402
6.9 Edward Lear: A Tour Round Sicily .....	404
6.10 Edward Lear: 'Wonderful Expeditions' .....	404
6.11 Edward Lear: Sketching in Palizzi .....	405
6.12 George Dennis: Through the Maremma in Search of the Etruscans .....	406
6.13 Janet Ross: Pliny's Well .....	409
6.14 Martin Shaw Briggs: In Praise of Lecce .....	410
6.15 Norman Douglas: A Column in Magna Graecia .....	411
6.16 D.H. Lawrence: 'Penetrating into Italy' .....	414
6.17 Duncan Fallowell: 'A Trapdoor to Infinity' .....	416
IV. References and Notes .....	417

V. Gazetteer of Travellers .....	465
VI. Bibliography .....	525
1. Bibliographical Reference .....	527
2. Anthologies .....	528
3. History and Modes of Travelling .....	529
4. Women Travellers .....	531
5. Travel Writing: General .....	532
6. British Travelling in Italy, Travel Writing on Italy, and Cultural Traffic with Italy .....	537
7. Some Non-British and Visual Traditions .....	548
8. Further Post-1860 British Travelogues on Italy .....	550