

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	xi
Part I: Literature	1
1 To Heck with the Village: Fantastic Heroines, Journey and Return Sandra J. Lindow	3
2 From Duckling to Swan: What Makes a Twilight Heroine Strong Tricia Clasen	17
3 Salem's Daughters: Witchcraft, Justice, and the Heroine in Popular Culture Lauren Lemley	29
4 Heroine: Christina of Markyate K. A. Laity	43
5 The Bohemian Gypsy, Another Body to Sell: Deciphering Esmeralda in Popular Culture Adina Schneeweis	53
6 Writing Women in War: Speaking through, about, and for Female Soldiers in Iraq Christina M. Smith	65
Part II: Exotic, Foreign, Familiar, and Queer	79
7 The Borderland Construction of Latin American and Latina Heroines in Contemporary Visual Media Mauricio Espinoza	81

8	Janissary: An Orientalist Heroine or a Role Model for Muslim Women? Itir Erhart and Hande Eslen-Ziya	95
9	Representations of Motherhood in X-Men Christopher Paul Wagenheim	107
10	Negotiating Life Spaces: How Marriage Marginalized Storm Anita McDaniel	119
11	The Mother of All Superheroes: Idealizations of Femininity in Wonder Woman Sharon Zechowski and Caryn E. Neumann	133
12	Wonder Woman: Lesbian or Dyke?: Paradise Island as a Woman's Community Trina Robbins	145
13	Homicidal Lesbian Terrorists to Crimson Caped Crusaders: How Folk and Mainstream Lesbian Heroes Queer Cultural Space AprilJo Murphy	153
Part III: Contemporary American Graphic Novels/Comics		169
14	Punching Holes in the Sky: Carol Danvers and the Potential of Superheroism Nathan Miczo	171
15	Jumping Rope Naked: John Byrne, Metafiction, and the Comics Code Roy Cook	185
16	Invisible, Tiny, and Distant: The Powers and Roles of Marvel's Early Female Superheroes Joseph Darowski	199
17	Heroines Aplenty, but None My Mother Would Know: Marvel's Lack of an Iconic Superheroine T. Keith Edmunds	211
18	Liminality and Capitalism in Spider-Woman and Wonder Woman: How to Make Stronger (i.e., Male) Two Super Powerful Women Fernando Gabriel Pagnoni Berns	221
19	Empowerment as Transgression: The Rise and Fall of the Black Cat in Kevin Smith's The Evil That Men Do Michael R. Kramer	233
Index		245
About the Editors		253

