

Contents

Preface to the Second Edition	vii
Preface to the First Edition	ix
Summary	1
Introduction	1
The Causes of Unemployment	2
Policy Proposals	4
Economic Effects	8
1 The Causes of Unemployment in the UK	9
Analysis of UK Unemployment	9
Empirical Work on the UK Labour Market – An Account of the Estimated Model	14
The Mechanics of Estimation	17
The Empirical Results – A Brief Account	18
Comparisons with Previous Work on the UK	21
Replies to Critics	25
The Effect of UK Policy on Unemployment	30
Conclusions	32
2 The Tax/Benefit System	35
The ‘Unemployment Trap’	36
The Position of Married Women	40
Policy Proposals for the Unemployment Trap: A Ceiling (or ‘Cap’) on Benefit Income Ratio	42
Administrative Aspects of the Cap	45
A ‘Workfare’ Scheme and the Procedures for Denial of Benefit	48
Tax Thresholds and the Longer Term	49
Means-tested Benefits and the ‘Poverty Trap’	50
Facts About the UK Trap	51
Policy Proposals for the Poverty Trap	53
Conclusion	54

3	Reform of the Tax/Benefit System and How to Pay for It	55
	Section I: Some Principles	55
	The Efficiency of the Government Expenditure Mechanism	56
	Principles for Action	71
	Section II: Applying the Principles in Detail	72
	'Tax Expenditures'	96
	The Overall Picture of Savings in the Budget	97
	Conclusion	100
4	The Problem of Union Power	102
	The Argument Recapitulated	102
	A Policy Framework	104
	The Present Situation	105
	Proposals for Reform	107
	An Alternative System of Industrial Relations	109
	A Labour Monopolies Commission	115
5	Wages Councils and Labour 'Protection' Laws	118
	Minimum Wages and Wages Councils	118
	Labour Protection Laws	122
	The Laws Themselves	126
	Proposed Reforms of this Legislation	128
6	Housing, Mobility and the Regions	130
	Housing and Mobility – the Interaction Between the Housing and Labour Markets	132
	Is there a Solution to the Problem?	136
	Conclusion	142
7	Comparative Analysis of Four Major European Countries	144
	The Nature of Tax/Benefit Systems on the Continent	144
	Belgium	145
	France	150
	Germany	155
	Italy	159
	Conclusions	162
	Data Sources	163
	Appendix A: Trade Union Immunities and the Closed Shop	166
	Trade Union Immunities	166
	The Closed Shop and Related Practices	171
	Restrictive Labour Practices: The Fair Trading Act 1973	176

Conclusion	177
Appendix B: A Review of Employment Protection Legislation	178
The Evolution of Employment Protection Legislation	178
Employment Protection: An Outline of Prevailing Individual Employment Rights	183
Conclusions	200
References	202
Index	206