

Nissim Otmazgin • Rebecca Suter
Editors

Rewriting History in Manga

Stories for the Nation

palgrave
macmillan

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: Manga as “Banal Memory”	1
	Nissim Otmazgin
	Part I Historicizing Political Manga	27
2	Kitazawa Rakuten as Popular Culture Provocateur: Modern Manga Images and Riotous Democracy in Early Twentieth-Century Japan	29
	Michael Lewis
3	Early Meiji Manga: The Political Cartoons of Kanagaki Robun and Kawanabe Kyôsei	57
	Orna Shaughnessy
	Part II Postwar Manga as History	73
4	Bodies of Anger: Atomic Survivors in Nakazawa Keiji’s Black Series Manga	75
	Michele M. Mason

5 Redacting Japanese History: Ishinomori Shōtarō’s Graphic Narratives	95
Roman Rosenbaum
6 Manga, History, and Telling Stories of the Past: Narrative Strategies in Shanaō Yoshitsune	111
Barbara Hartley
Part III Decoding and Recoding History: Manga Reception and Parody	131
7 Decoding “Hate the Korean Wave” and “Introduction to China”: A Case Study of Japanese University Students	133
Alexander Bukh
8 History as Sexualized Parody: Love and Sex Between Nations in Axis Powers Hetalia	151
Toshio Miyake
9 Reassessing Manga History, Resituating Manga in History	175
Rebecca Suter
Notes on Contributors	185
Index	189