

Contents

Sponsor's Statement		6
Foreword		8
Introduction Interior Exterior The Modern Soul and the Search for the Ideal Home	Markus Brüderlin	12
The Exhibition in 12 Chapters
Cosmos and Cocooning Romanticism and Biedermeier: The Nineteenth Century	Chapter 01	36
Berggasse 19 The Discovery of the Unconscious Interior: Interiors around 1900 Mirrored by Contemporary Art	Chapter 02	48
The Picture Wants to Become an Interior From Art Nouveau to De Stijl: 1900–30	Chapter 03	60
Classical Modernity L'Esprit nouveau and Bauhaus: The Twenties and Thirties	Chapter 04	70
Rendezvous under the Kidney Table Upholstered Modernity: The Fifties	Chapter 05	80
Philandering in the Snuggle Den Pop and the Sexualization of the Interior: The Sixties and Seventies	Chapter 06	94
Room with a View and the Monitored Space Translucent Modernity: The Fifties and Sixties	Chapter 07	108
The Museum as Interior	Chapter 08	122
The Panic Room The Uncanny Interior	Chapter 09	132
Furniture Wants to Become Sculpture Loft Living and Minimal Art: The Seventies and Eighties	Chapter 10	138
Living in Transit Nomadism and Retrofuturism since the Sixties	Chapter 11	154
Clouds—Nests—Soap Bubbles Living in the Future	Chapter 12	166
Augmented Reality Between the Worlds		178
Essays
Couch and Chimney, Cave and the Cosmos Sites of Transition between the Interior and the Exterior	Annelie Lütgens	184
Inner Worlds Interior Painting around 1900	Felix Krämer	198
The Bauhaus and New Living Utopia and Reform in the Twenties	Gerda Breuer	204
On the Situation of the Couch Corner	Martin Warnke	212
Living After Warnke From the Couch Corner to the Lounge	Peter Richter	218
Function or Fiction? On the Symbiosis between Design and Art since Jasper Morrison	Mateo Kries	224
The Transfiguration of Objects	Annette Tietenberg	232
Art and Design Today Markus Brüderlin in Conversation with Petra Schmidt and Andreas M. Vitt		238
Appendix
List of Works		249
Artists' and Designers' Biographies		252
Bibliography		262