

Contents

Introductory Chapter: On the Very Idea of Hermeneutic Realism	1
1 The Kind of Hermeneutics in Hermeneutic Realism	1
2 Basic Concepts and Conceptual Figures of Hermeneutic Realism	13
3 Hermeneutic Realism and Interpretive Internalism	21
4 Scientific Inquiry from the Viewpoint of Hermeneutic Realism	38
5 From Practices to “Texts”	56
The Production of Objectified Factuality Within the Facticity of Scientific Inquiry	63
1 The Practice Turn in Science Studies	63
2 Hermeneutic Realism as a Hermeneutic Philosophy of Science	76
3 The Empirical in the Interspace Between Epistemology and Hermeneutics	93
3.1 Do Scientific Facts Have Genesis and Development in the Facticity of Inquiry?	93
3.2 Steps Beyond the Normative Codification of Objectified Factuality	97
3.3 The Facticity of Scientific Inquiry and Ludwik Fleck’s “Cognitive Stylistics”	104
3.4 Facticity and Factuality, and the Realism Debate	124
3.5 A Heideggerian Epilogue and the Roots of Double Hermeneutics in the Hermeneutics of Facticity	138
Intermediate Reflections: Reflexivity in Scientific Inquiry and Empirical Ontologies of Hybrid Objects	157
1 Non-empirical Assumptions in the Radical Empiricization of Ontology	157
2 Ontological Difference and Empirical Ontologies	168
3 Concluding Remarks	173

Meaningful Articulation and Objectification of Reality in Scientific Inquiry	181
1 Prelude.....	181
2 Contextures-of-Equipment and Contexts of Inquiry	190
2.1 A Scientific Practice from Within and Without.....	190
2.2 Semiosis Through Reading-and-Representation	199
3 Hermeneutic Circles of Articulation and Objectification in Scientific Research	209
4 The Absent Presence of Science’s Theoretical Objects	227
5 The Object-Structure Distinction in a Hermeneutic Key	240
6 A Preliminary Concept of “Text”	247
Concluding Chapter: “Texts”, Relevant Contexts, and Textualizing	253
References	271
Name Index	283
Subject Index	289