

Contents

Acknowledgments	vi
Introduction	1
1 Patriarchal Narratives in the Work of Horace Walpole, Clara Reeve, and Sophia Lee	8
2 The Aesthetic of the Sublime in the Work of Matthew Lewis, Charlotte Dacre, and Charles Maturin	32
3 Rethinking the Sublime in the Novels of Ann Radcliffe	57
4 From the Sublime to the Uncanny: Godwin and Wollstonecraft	77
5 Uncanny Monsters in the Work of Mary Shelley, John Polidori, and James Malcolm Rymer	98
6 Confronting the Uncanny in the Brontës	114
7 The “Unhomely” Nation of Gothic Narratives: Charlotte Smith, Charles Brockden Brown, and Matthew Lewis	129
8 Feminist, Postmodern, Postcolonial: Margaret Atwood and Ann-Marie Macdonald Respond to the Gothic	156
Coda: Criticism of the Gothic	180
Notes	187
Bibliography	201
Index	210